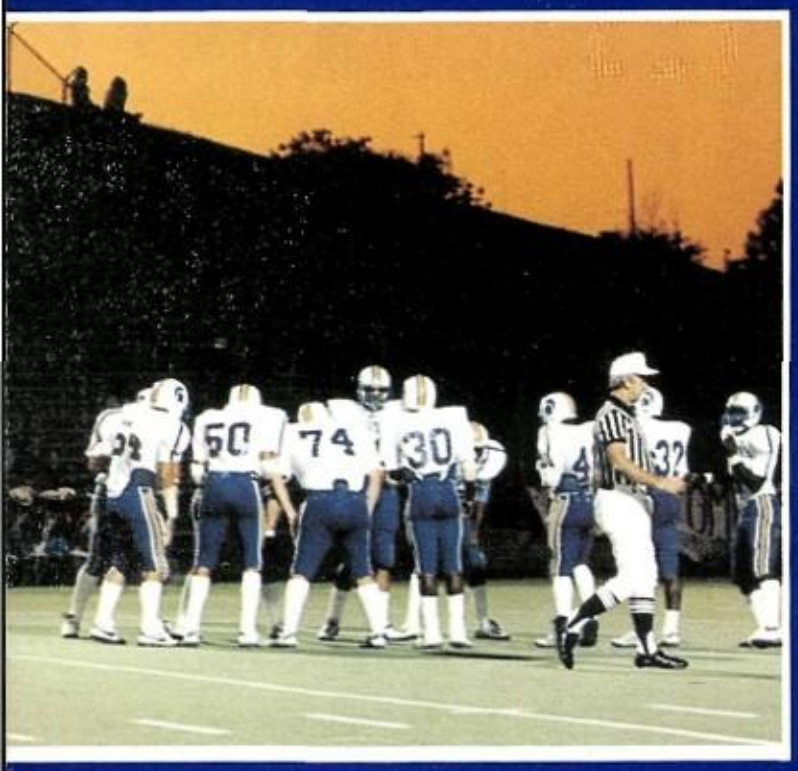
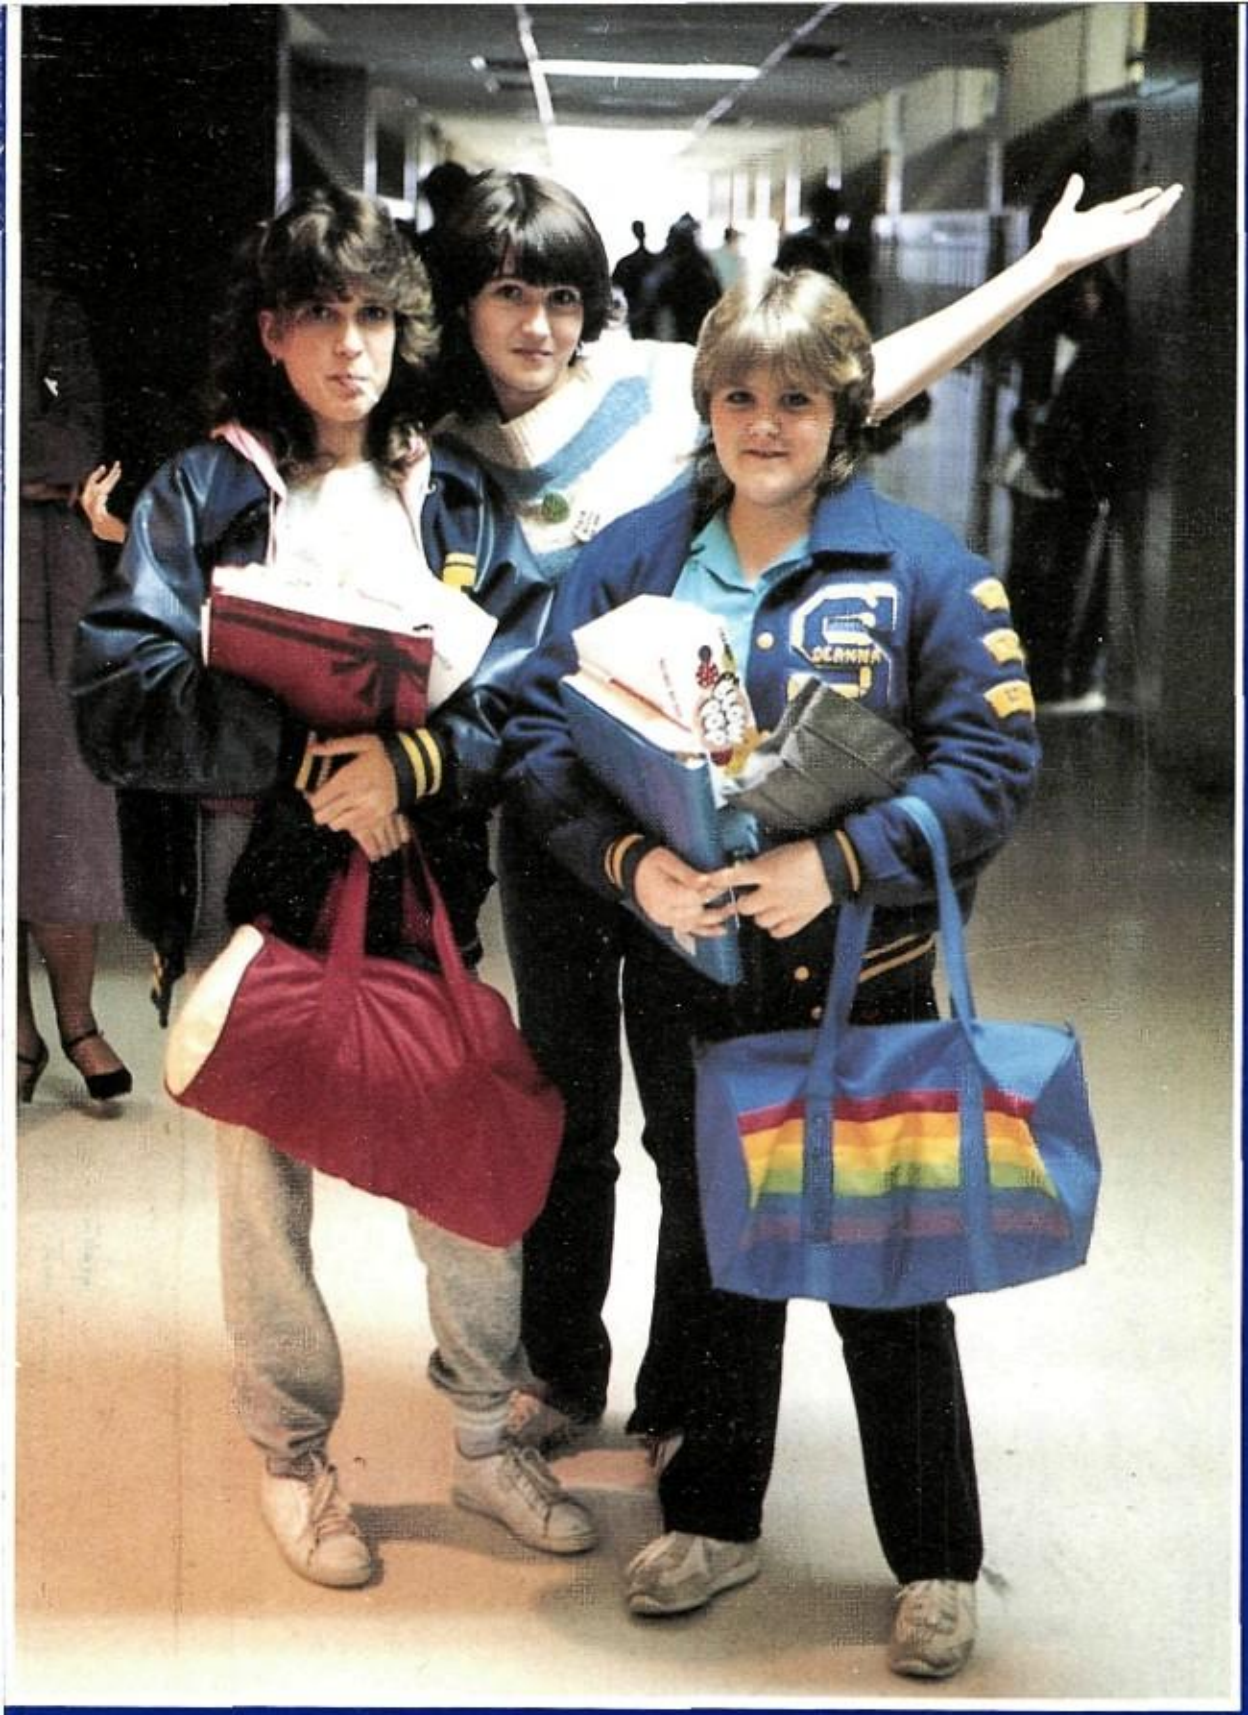
Tammy Vail opens the door for 1984.

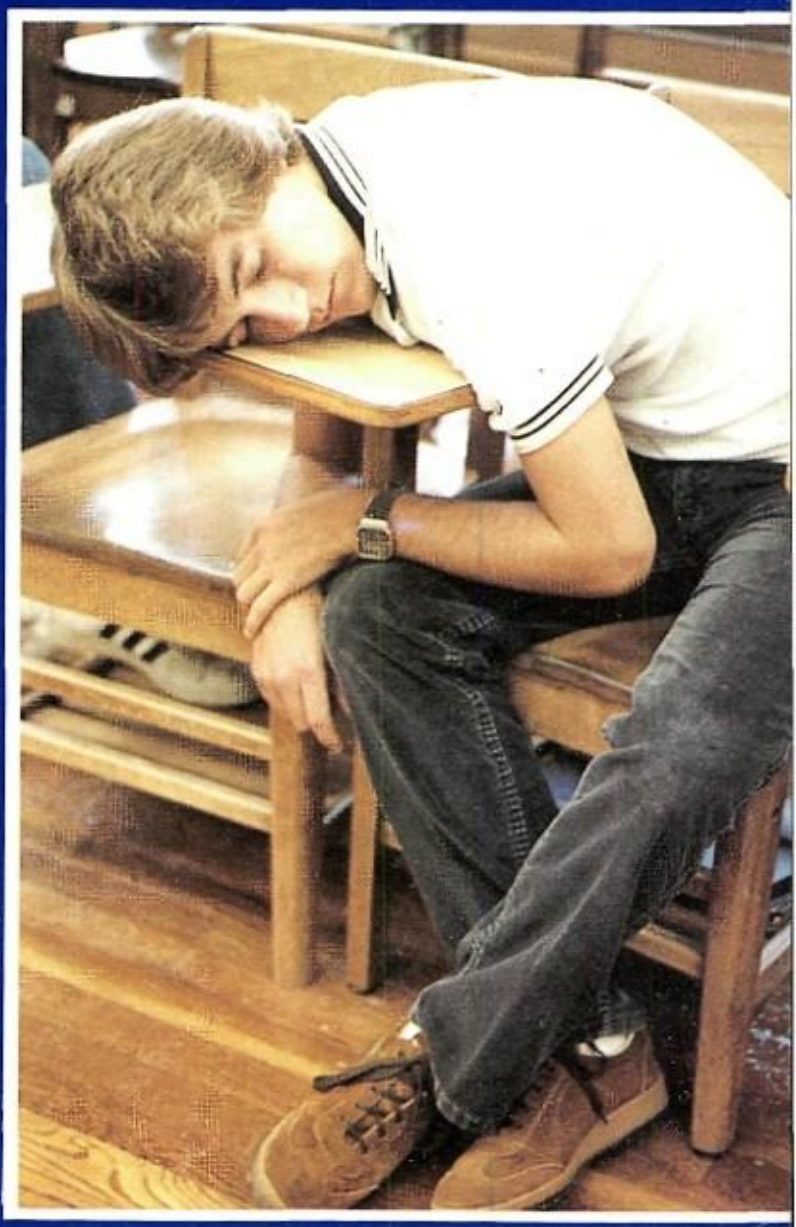


At sunset, the varsity huddles against North Mesquite.

Carolyn Bradley and Bill Lindley raise spirit and their feet at the Bryan Adams game.



Freshmen Laura Powell, Vickie Sanderson, and Deanna Brown arrive at Samuell prepared to stay.



The only note that Robby Stokes sings in choir is "Zzzz".

Vickie White, Todd Murray, Dale Walker, Billy Russ, Russell Ansley, Yolanda Wright "band" together against Spruce.

Being a Spartan is . . .

finding a new friend, learning in classrooms, making all A's. Being a Spartan is learning to write well, finding your locker for the very first time. Being a Spartan is playing the drum in the Spartan band, and being a Spartan is walking hand in hand. Being a Spartan is Starlets and DECA, knowing a secret, having no homework. Being a Spartan is Spanish and English, catching a flyball, making an out. Being a Spartan is going home every now and then, and being a Spartan is coming back to school again. Being a Spartan is seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen too. Being a Spartan is dedication and spirit, caring and sharing too. Being a Spartan is having a best friend, sharing a sandwich, getting along. Being a Spartan is singing together in Concert Choir and all those who sing with you. Being a Spartan is anyone and anything at all that's loved by you. For being a Spartan is each and every one of you.

Renee Brown has the whole senior class in her hands.

The Starlets shine at their Denton half time performance.

Varsity cheerleaders and the varsity football team break through to victory at the SOC game.

Renee Manes fills the hall with homecoming spirit and streamers.

Spirited Spartans stick together in Denton.

Frank Johnson and Regina Love dance to "Ebony and Ivory."

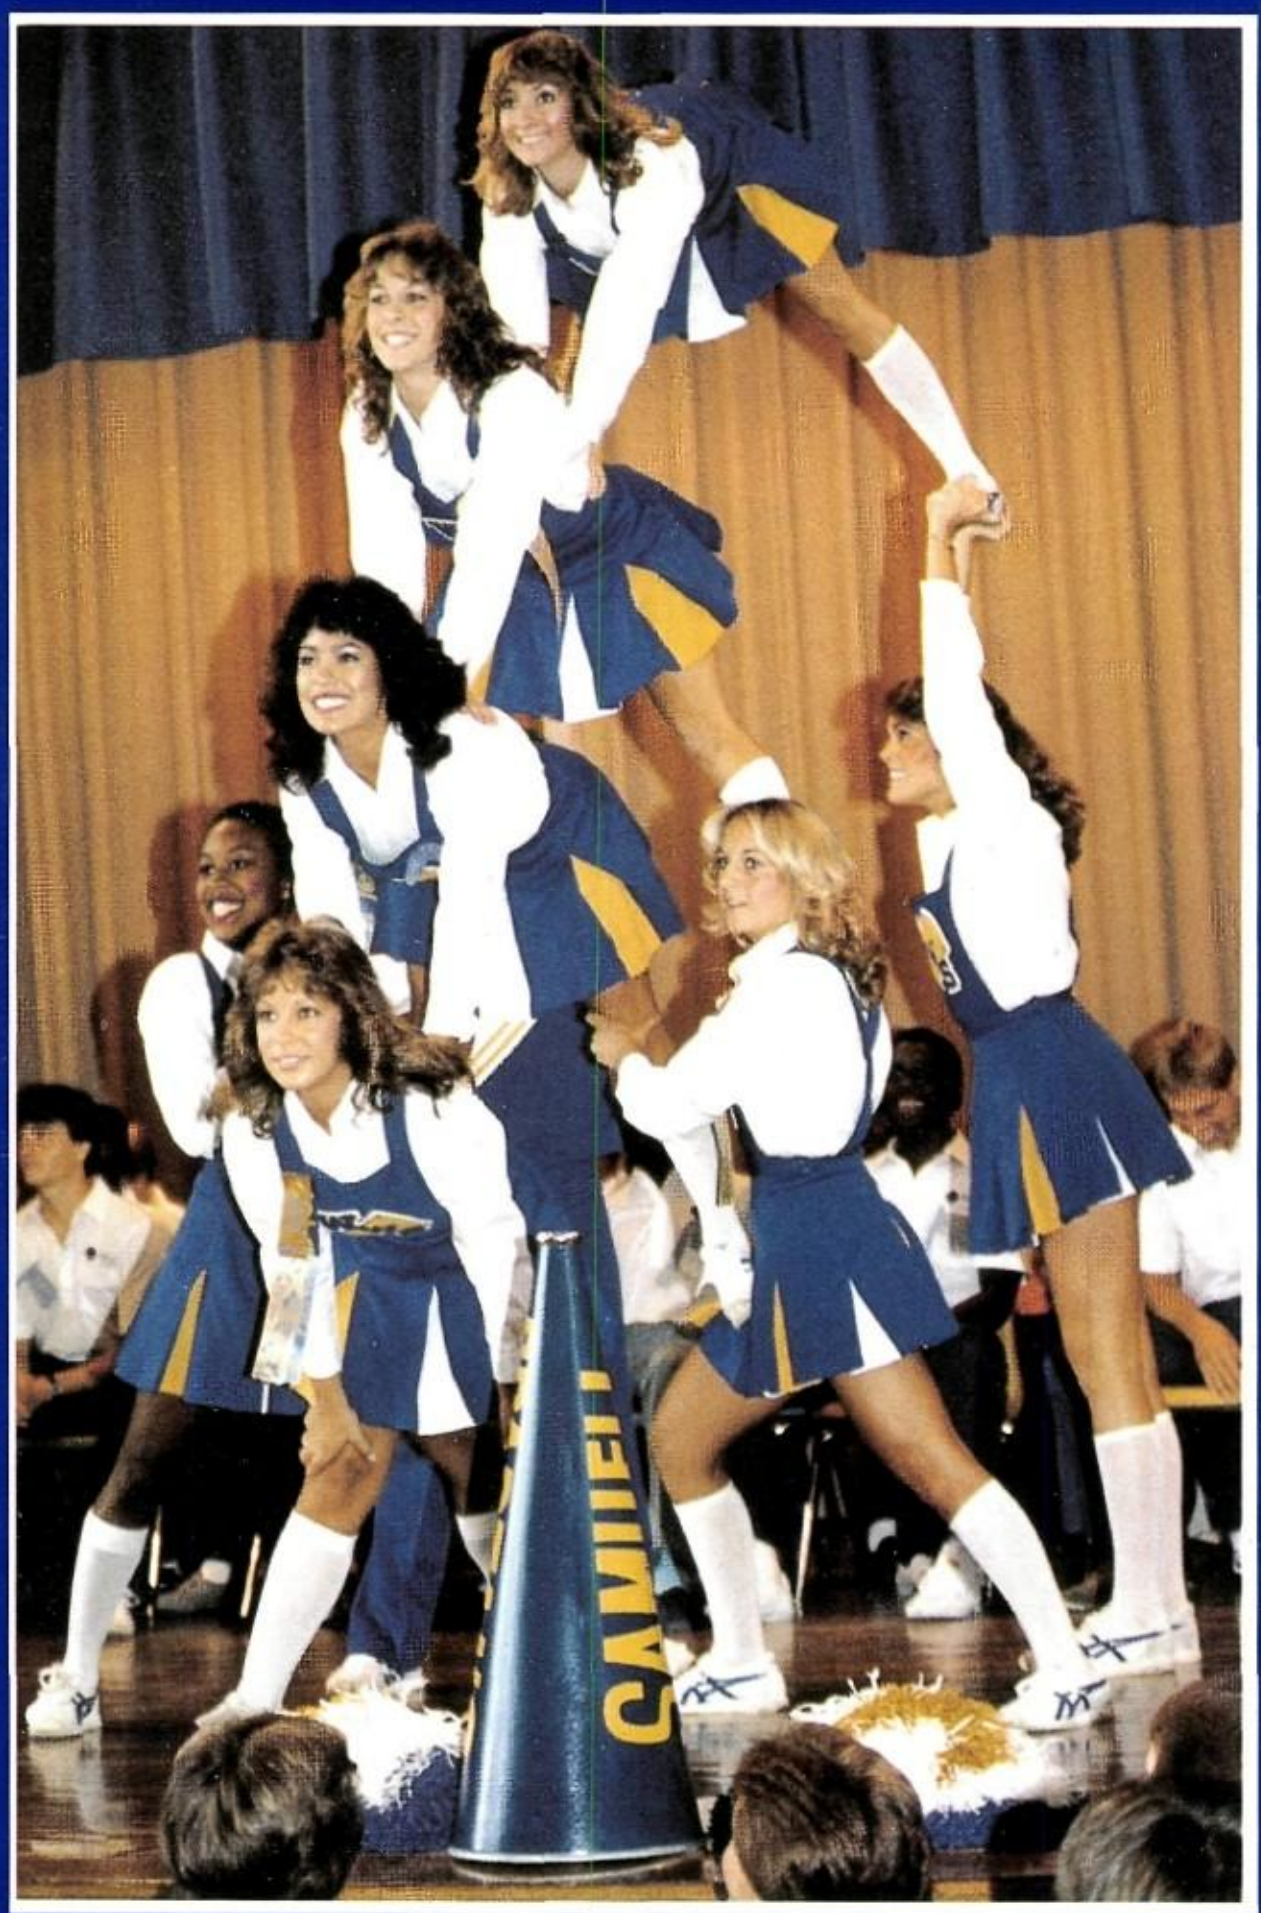
Christia Fuller, Corsandra Parrish, and Alycia Evans are all smiles about ROTC.

Chris Bene, Russell Finley, Les McFarlend, Alan Stephens, Chris Henderson, Michael Clayton, and Keith Bene are off to a running start.

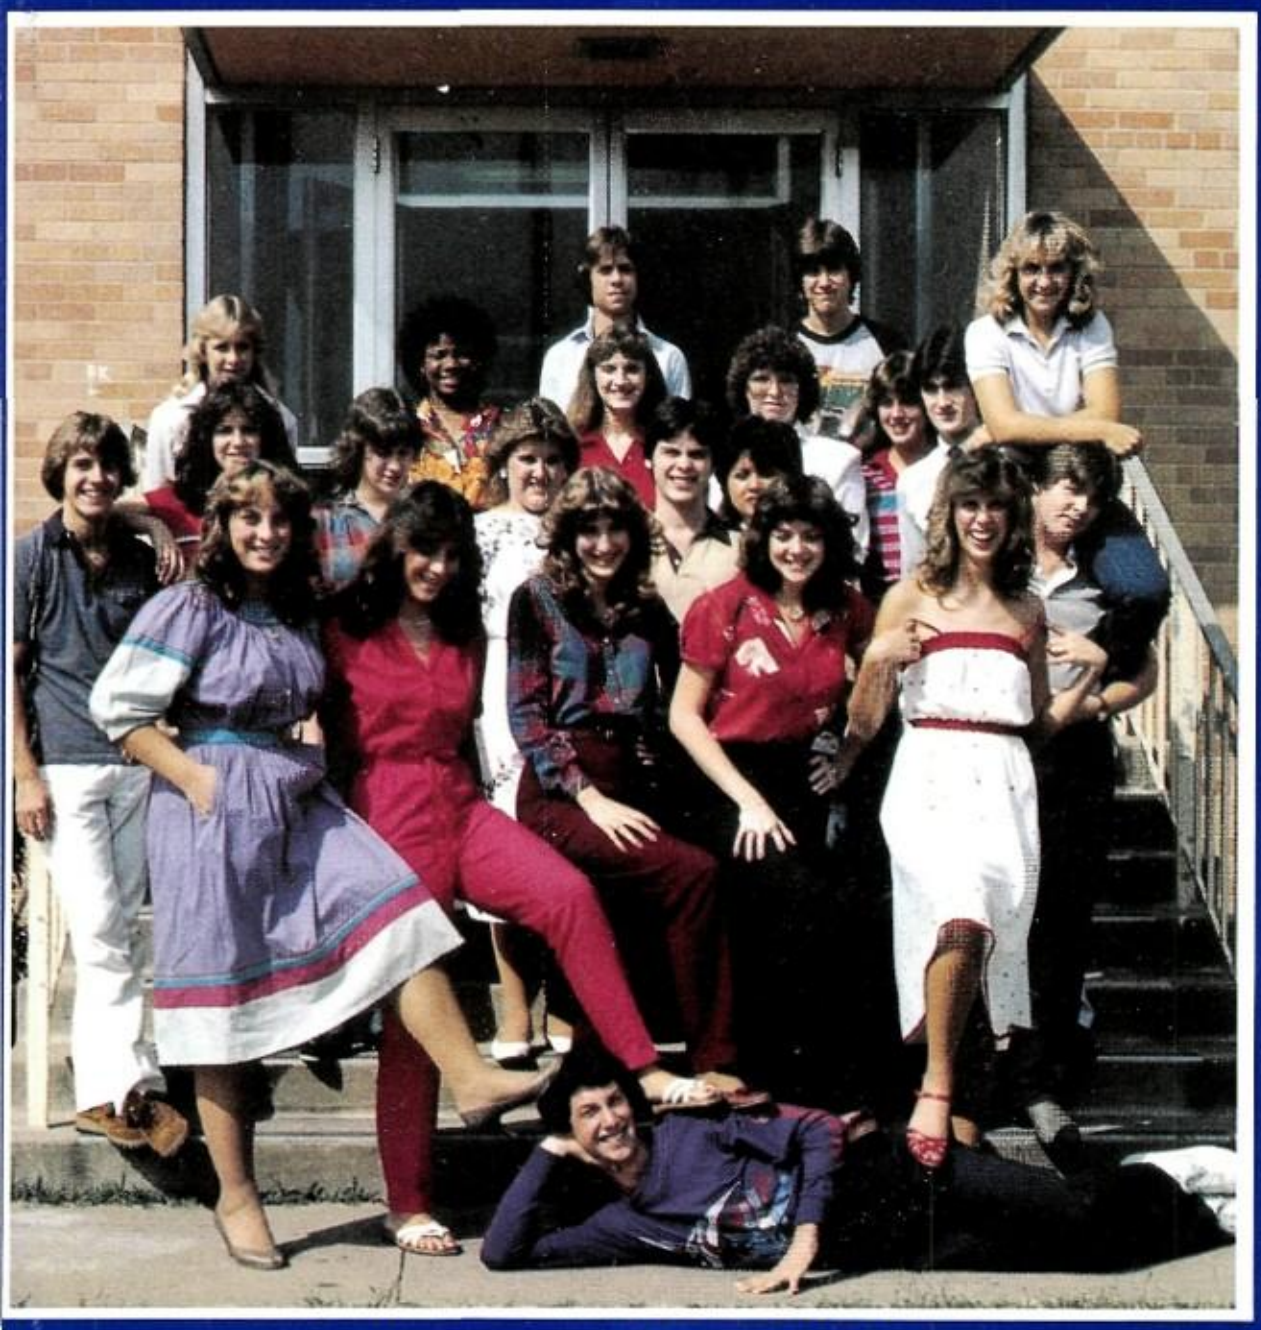
Mitch Rogers watches Richard Love talk to the computer.

Spartan fan Melissa Carol has her own style.

A 1984 Spartan was a senior, junior, sophomore, freshman, or a faculty member. A Spartan was also a winner on the football field, on the basketball court, in U.I.L. speech and drama competition, in choir and band contests, in drill, cheerleader and yearbook camps, and most important in the classroom.



The varsity cheerleaders, Carolyn Bradley, Terri Bergeaux, Gloria Cruz, Karla Littrell, Karen Gunstanson, Darita Pool, and Beth Hairgrove are ready for W.W.S.



Bill Lindley plays centerfold for the TORCH staff.

For the first time in years, every course at Samuell was on grade level. The phase elective program gave way to traditional English, and academic emphasis English and math courses were added to the curriculum to provide students with the extra help that they needed.

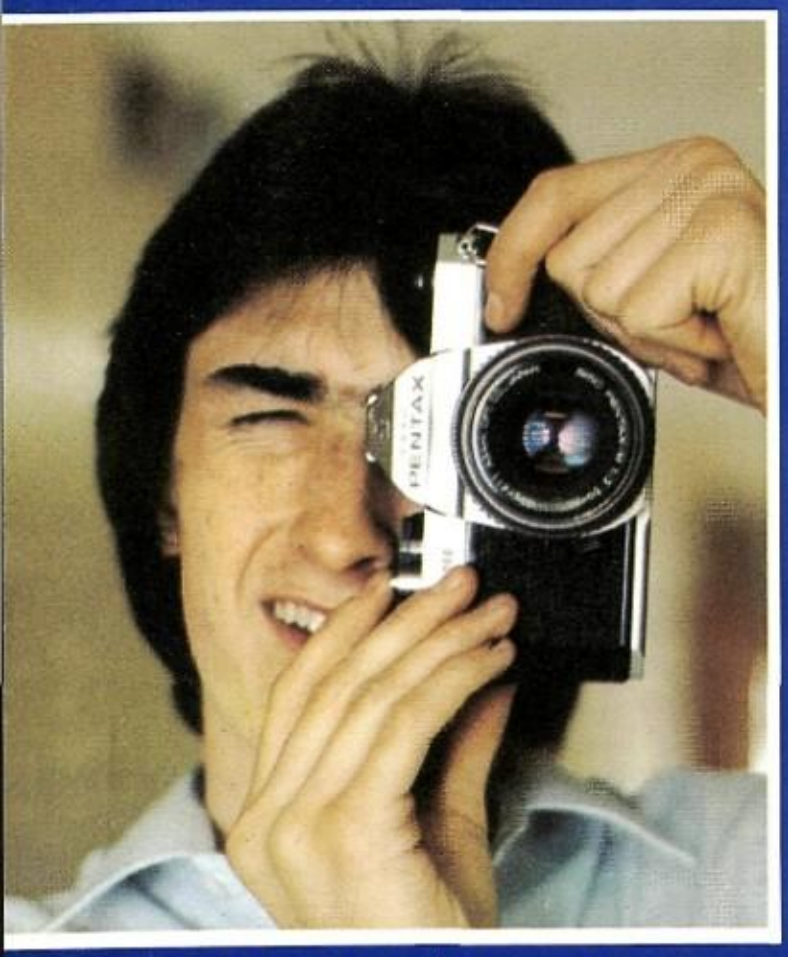
Henry Martinez, Bill McCarter, Greg Pierson, David Gibbs, Jeff Hennen, Kevin Miles, Cort Stilwell, Steve Hyles, and Tamla Jaggers are the drum corp that keep the Spartan beat.

New rules and regulations brought about some changes for the 1984 school year. One of the major changes was the attendance policy. This year, students were allowed five absences, excused or unexcused. Six days led to an automatic failure. Three tardies were considered as one absence. Passes were a must in the hall.

Adding to the changes were a new principal, Mr. Rollings, and a new Dean of Instruction, Dr. Baca

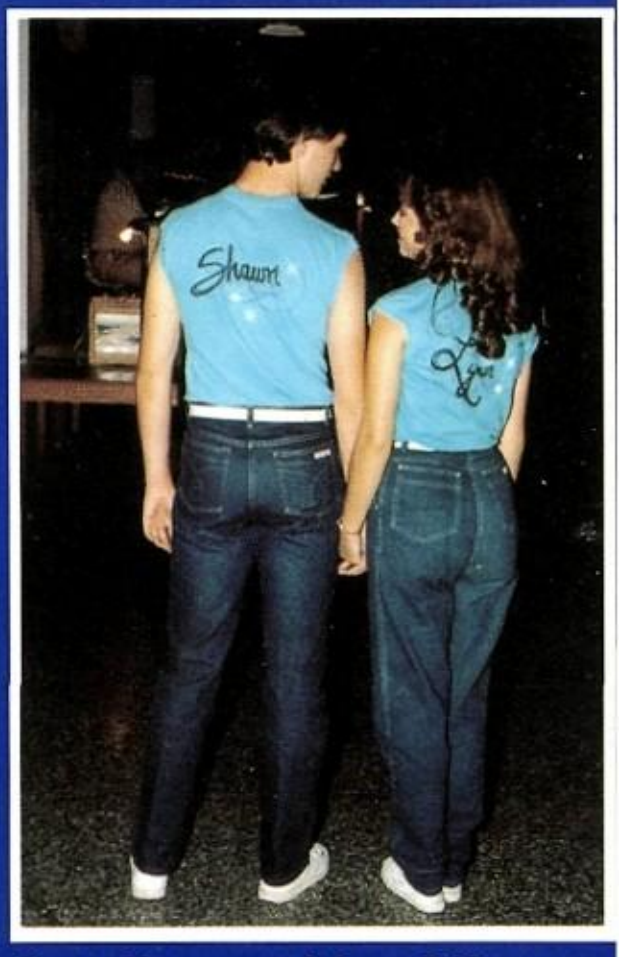
The lengthening of the school day until four p.m. brought about other changes. It allowed students to take an extra academic class, and it also provided some students with a study hall. After school meetings and practices could not begin until four-fifteen p.m. Students and faculty, tired from that extra hour, adjusted to the change in about six weeks.

The banner team and Spartan image are all for one and one for all.

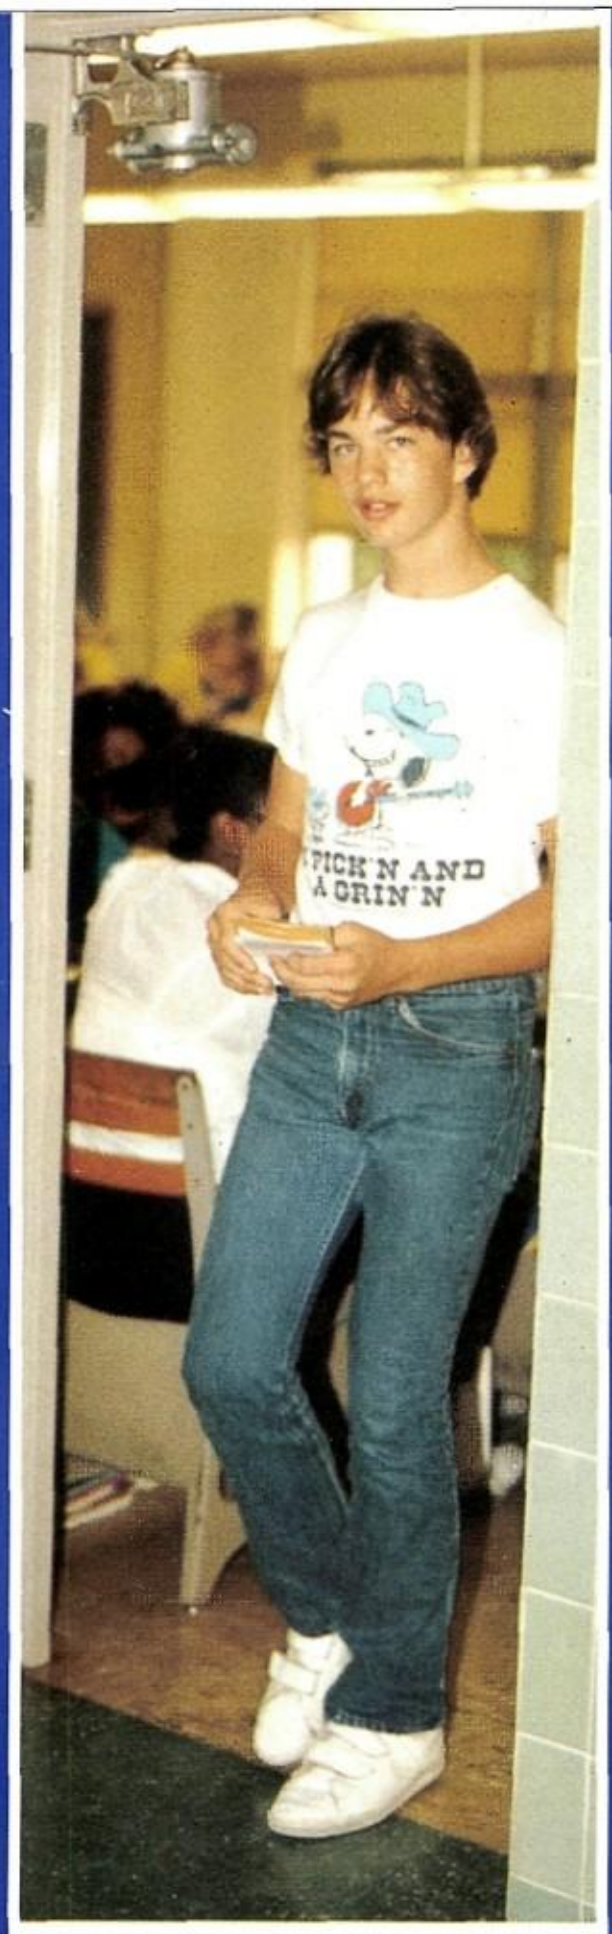


Steve Hyles can be found wherever the action is.

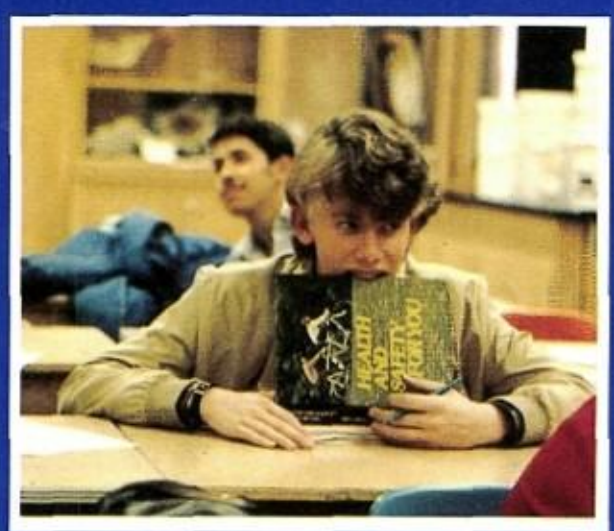
Mike Stewart's heart belongs to Samuell.



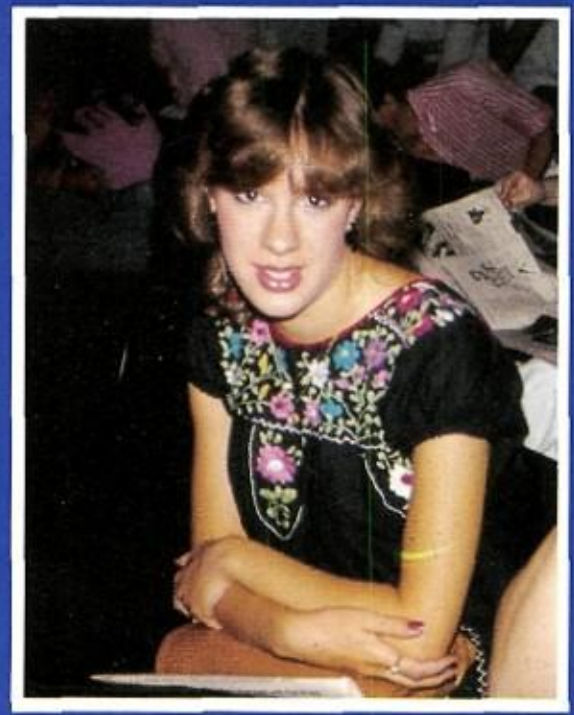
Shawn Newsome and Lynn Bridges go hand and hand through their senior year.



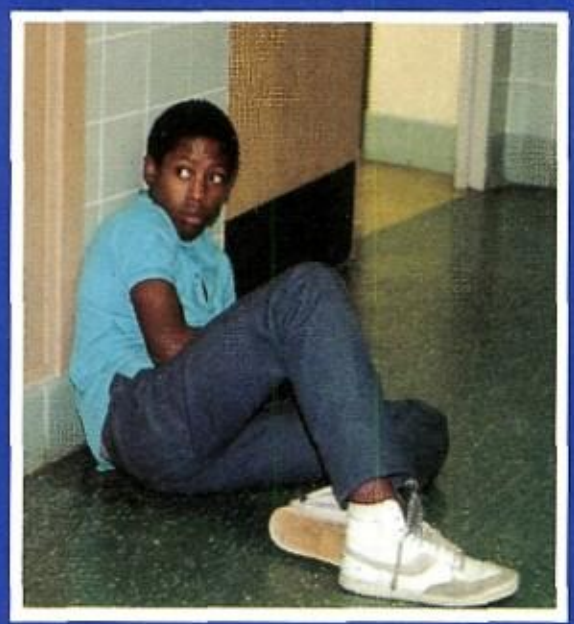
Lance Phillips picks up attendance with a grin.



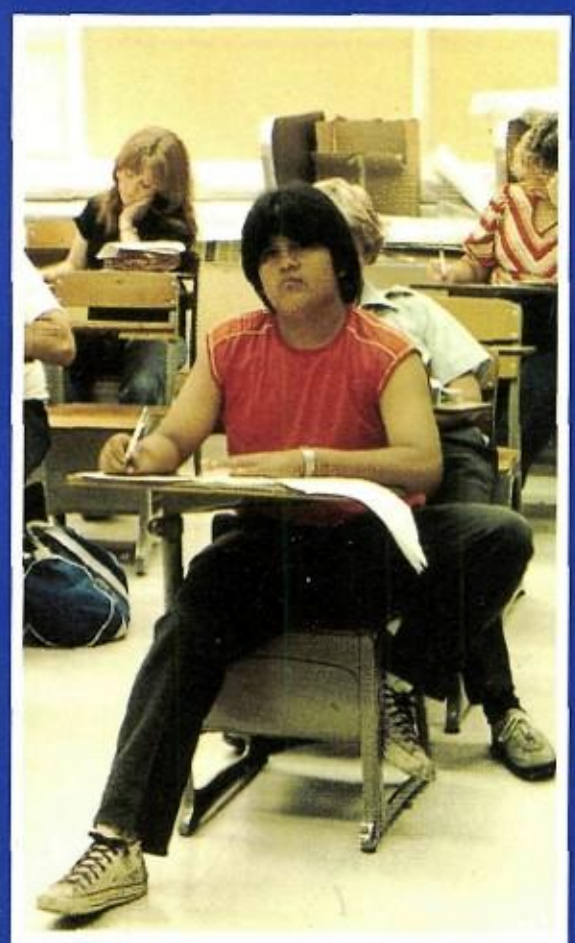
Stacy Chapman gets healthy the hard way.



DeAnn Woodruff waits for the journalism awards to begin at SMU.



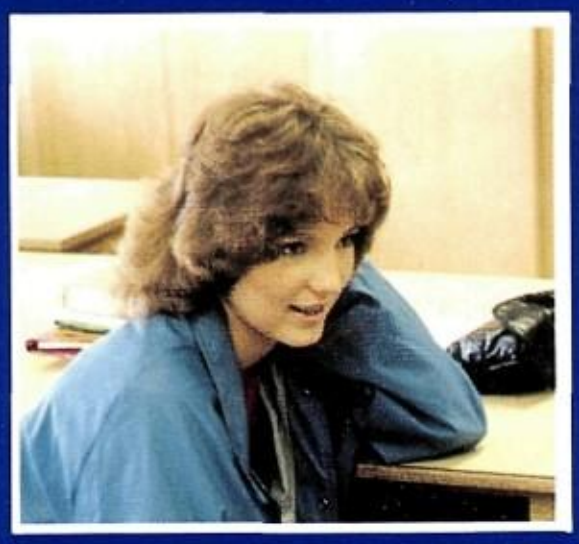
Aaron Vinson is found outside Ms. Long's door again.



Ms. Adam's AE English is a challenge for John Lozano.

Pam Hickman holds her tongue when she is late to industrial art.

Samuell provided a variety of organizations and sports which inspired participation and appealed to all types of students. Spartans showed their spirit by belonging to Blue Jackets, and the deaf pep club. Athletes competed in such sports as volleyball, golf, tennis, soccer, basketball, and football. The tedious hours, dedication and striving for perfection of each team or organizations proved what being a Spartan really was.



Christie Bevill waits for the 4:00 bell to ring.

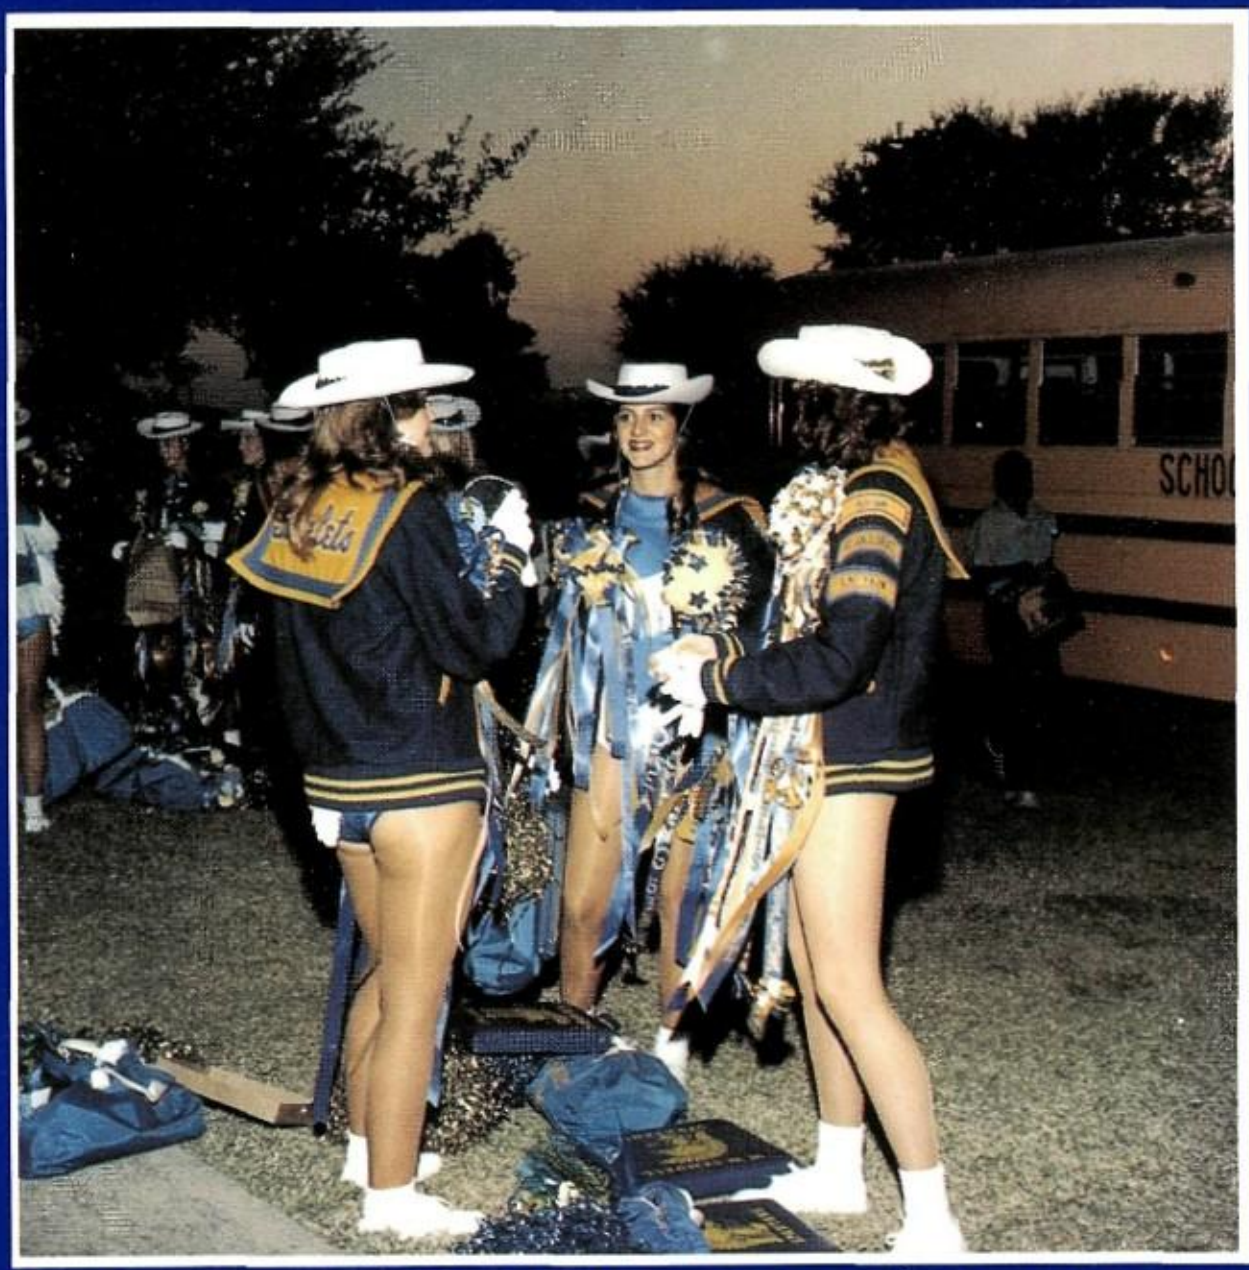
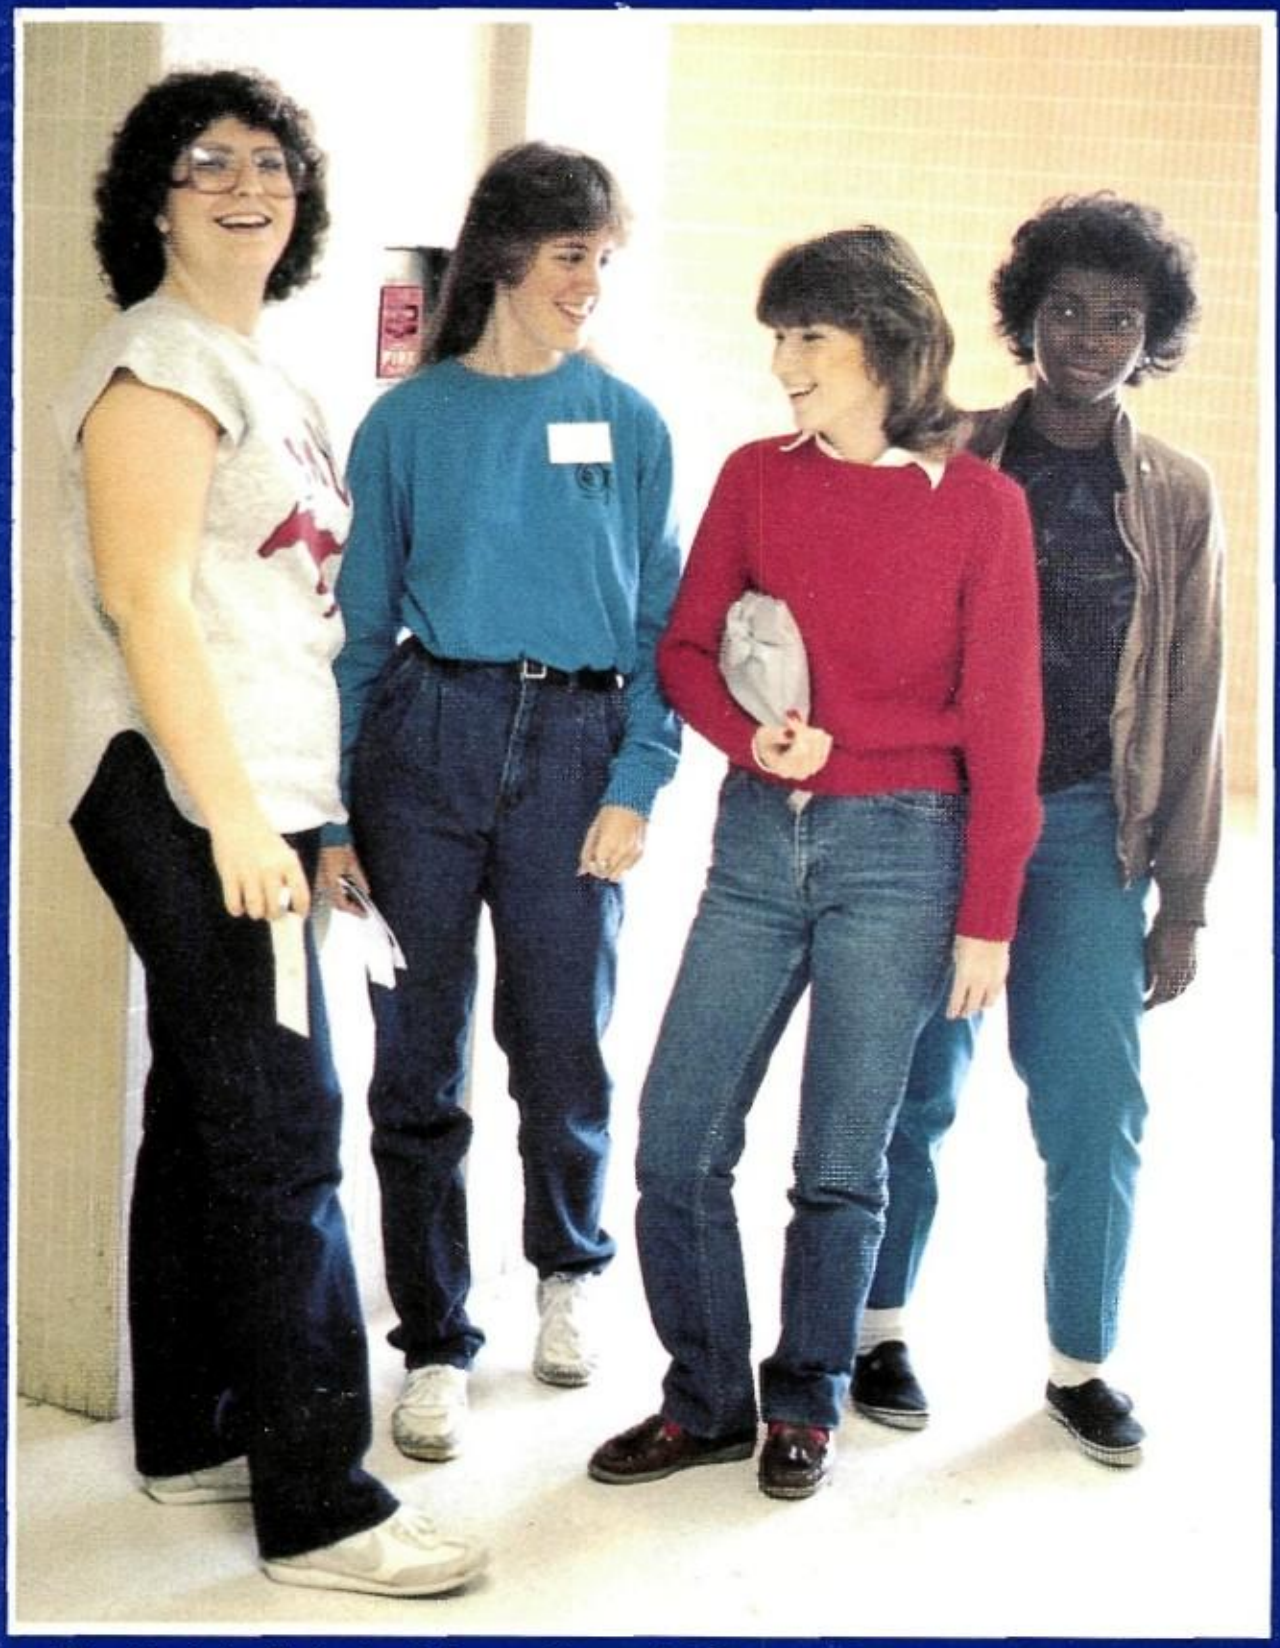
Mandy Byrd is really into women's lib with Jay VanSyckle.

To break away from the daily routine of getting up, going to school and returning home, students participated in various activities. The fall pep assemblies and football games gave the student body and faculty an opportunity to show spirit. There was also the variety show Razz Ma Tazz, the Homecoming events, Dracula and the fall dance. Winter brought basketball season, the Deaf Winter Carnival, and Starlets on Broadway. Track meets, baseball games, and senior activities livened up the spring. Through all of the various activities, students and faculty showed what being a Spartan was really all about.

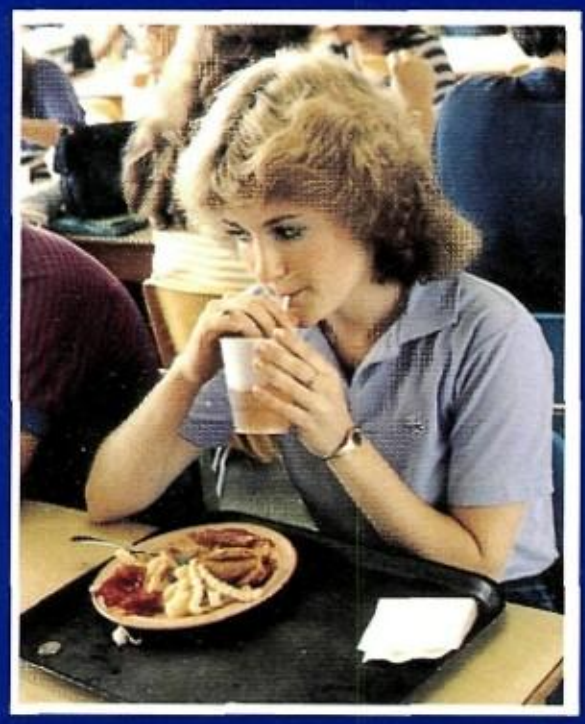


Cherry Brown, Andrea Shultz, and Kelley Maurer wait for the other Starlets before the homecoming game.

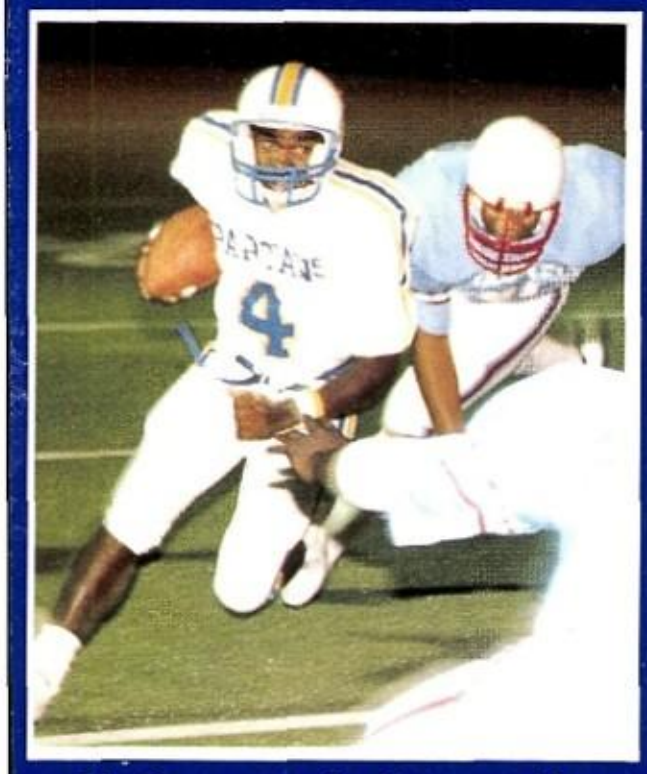
A 1984 Spartan accepted and adapted to many changes. He belonged to one or many organizations and participated in sporting events whether on the field, court, or in the stands. He attended dances, plays, the musical and other activities. At Samuell, many individuals shared one thing in common; they were all Spartans.



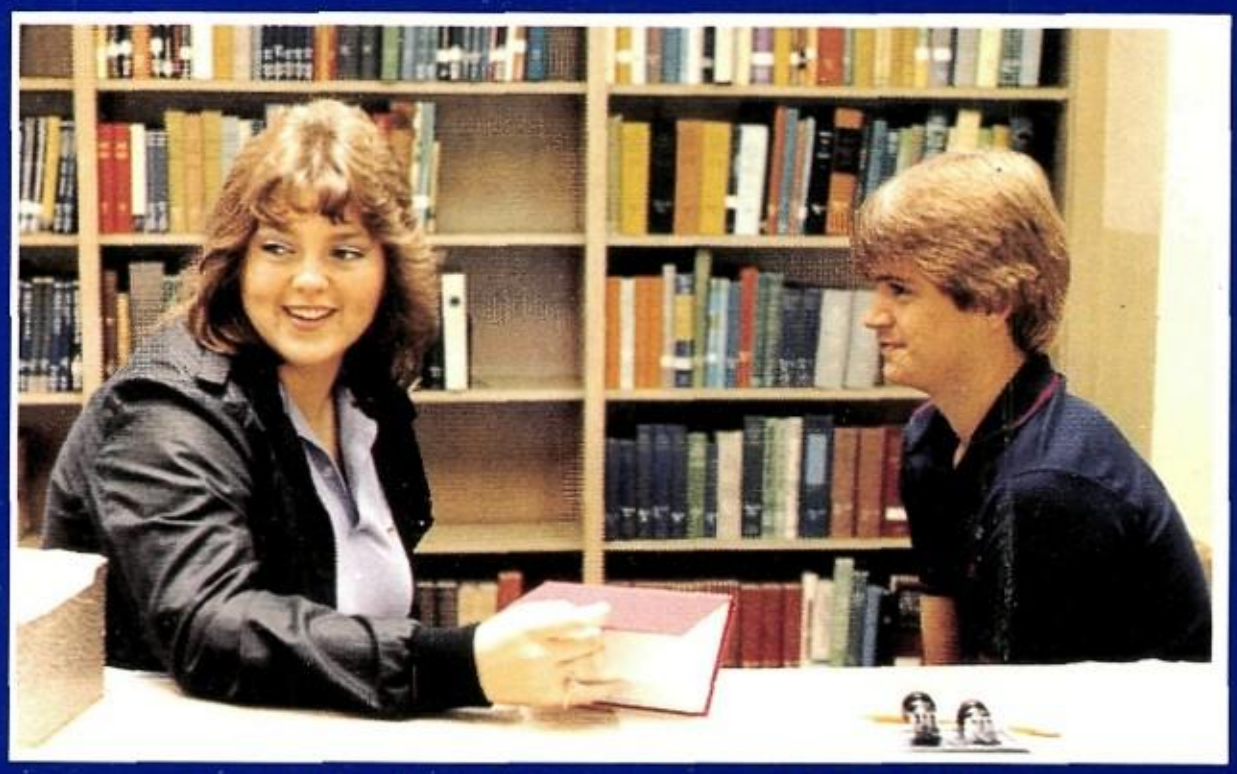
Tina Nuckols, Shelly Reed, Lacey Clay, and Jerri Dandridge gather in the hall between classes to gossip.



Lunchroom food fits Tamla Jaggers to a "tea."



It's Camper on the keeper as Marcus rushes toward the end zone.



DeLynn Loy and Richard Henry check each other out in the library.

ALMA MATER

Hail, Samuell High!
Hail, Samuell High!
This song to thee
we sing.
We pledge to thee
our loyalty
As loud our praises ring.
For always to the Gold and Blue
Our hearts will still be true.
As fighting Spartans
we will cry
Our love for Samuell
High.

Greg Titus and Joe Jeffery keep Pam Kellum and Rita Marsh from their tennis game with Sandy Sanders, Shellie Hill, and Priscilla Torrez break for a sign from their sponsor, Ms. Hughes.

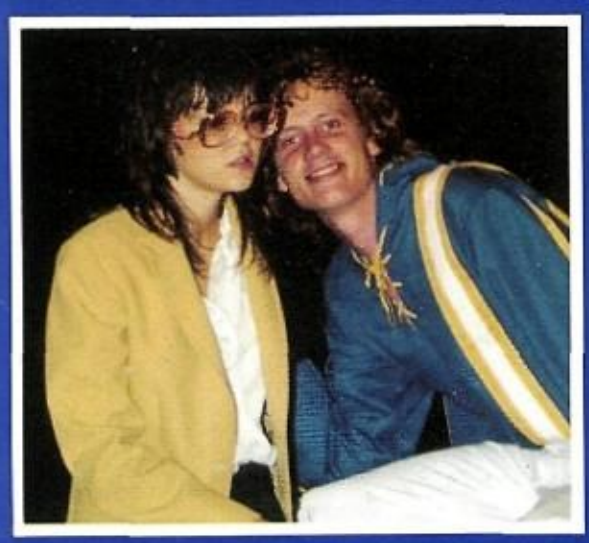
Band brings out the best in Vickie White.

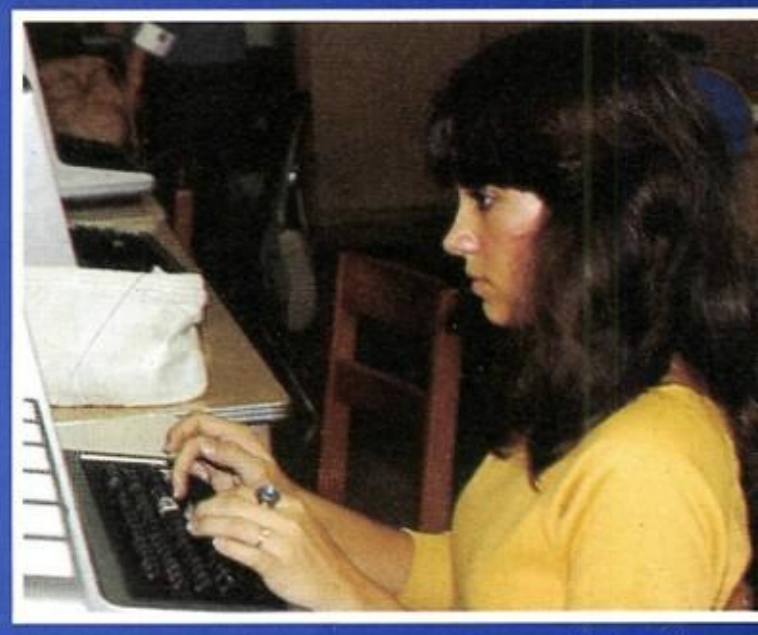


Mendi Miller and Cort Stilwell have a little after half-time fun.

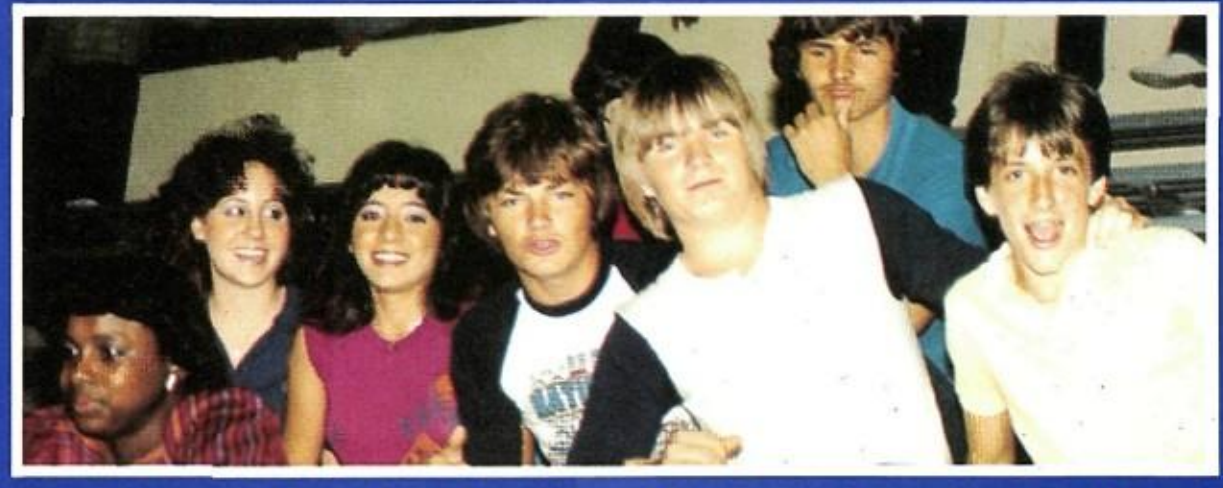
Kimber Sanders, Kelley Maurer, Marietta Watson, and Sheryl Scott are all smiles and mums at homecoming.

Randall Green and Gerald Ford.

Is lunch a trick or treat for Connie Courtney and Kim Mitchell?



Christi Current programs the computer with her flying fingers.



Sheri Barnhart, Melinda Paiz, Dave Lane, Mike Stewart, James Lane, and Shaynor Newsome support our winning football team.

J.V. cheerleader hopefuls are Archie Carroll, Marcus Camper, Dedrick Williams, Kelvin Dansby, Wence Castellano, Paul Donaldson, Eric Sanders, and David Miller.

FIGHT SONG

Fight Spartans, right down the field
Until we score that victory.
FIGHT! FIGHT!
Fight Spartans, and never yield
Our pledge of pride and loyalty.
RAH! RAH!
To our colors of Gold
and Blue
We ever shall be true.
GO, SPARTANS, GO!
Go crashing through that line
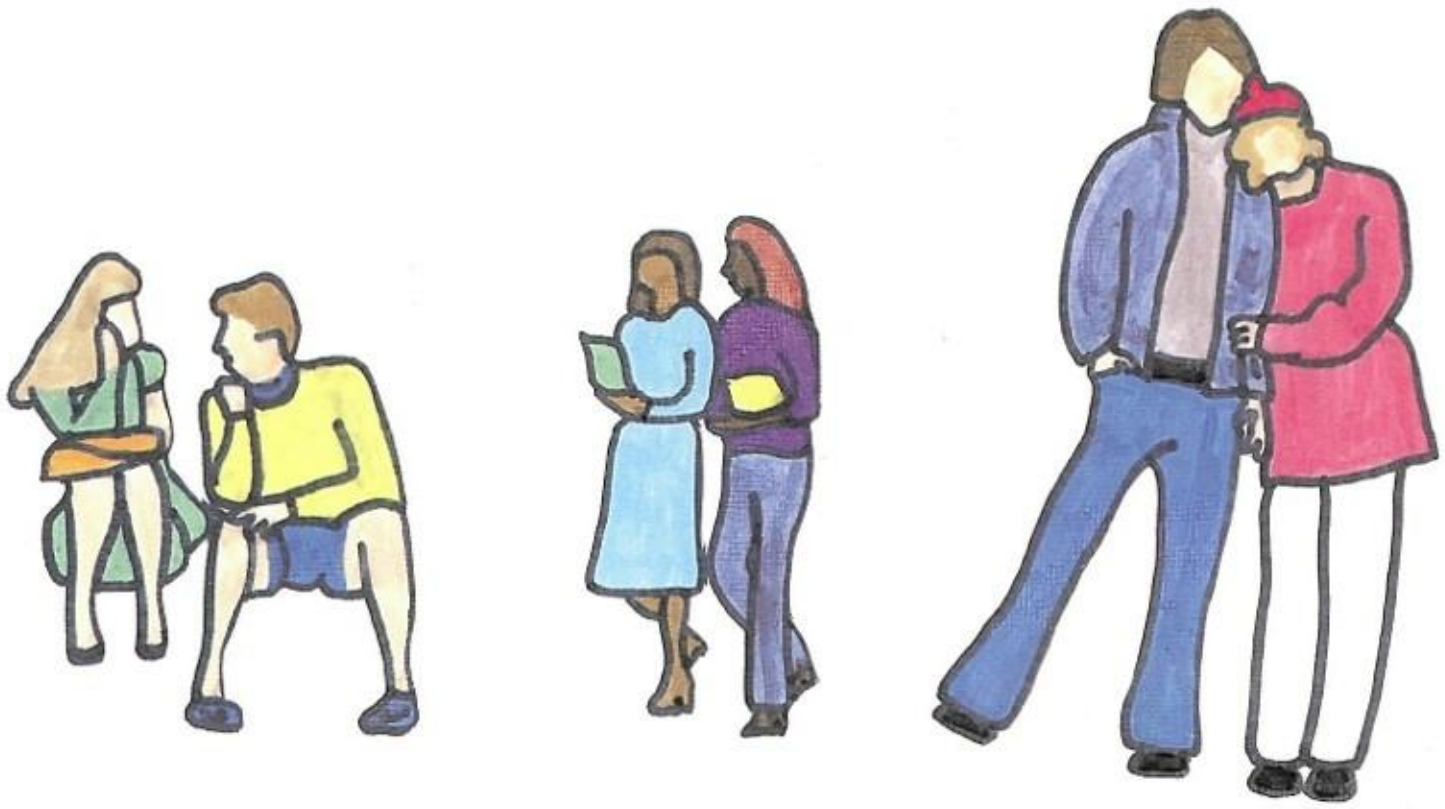
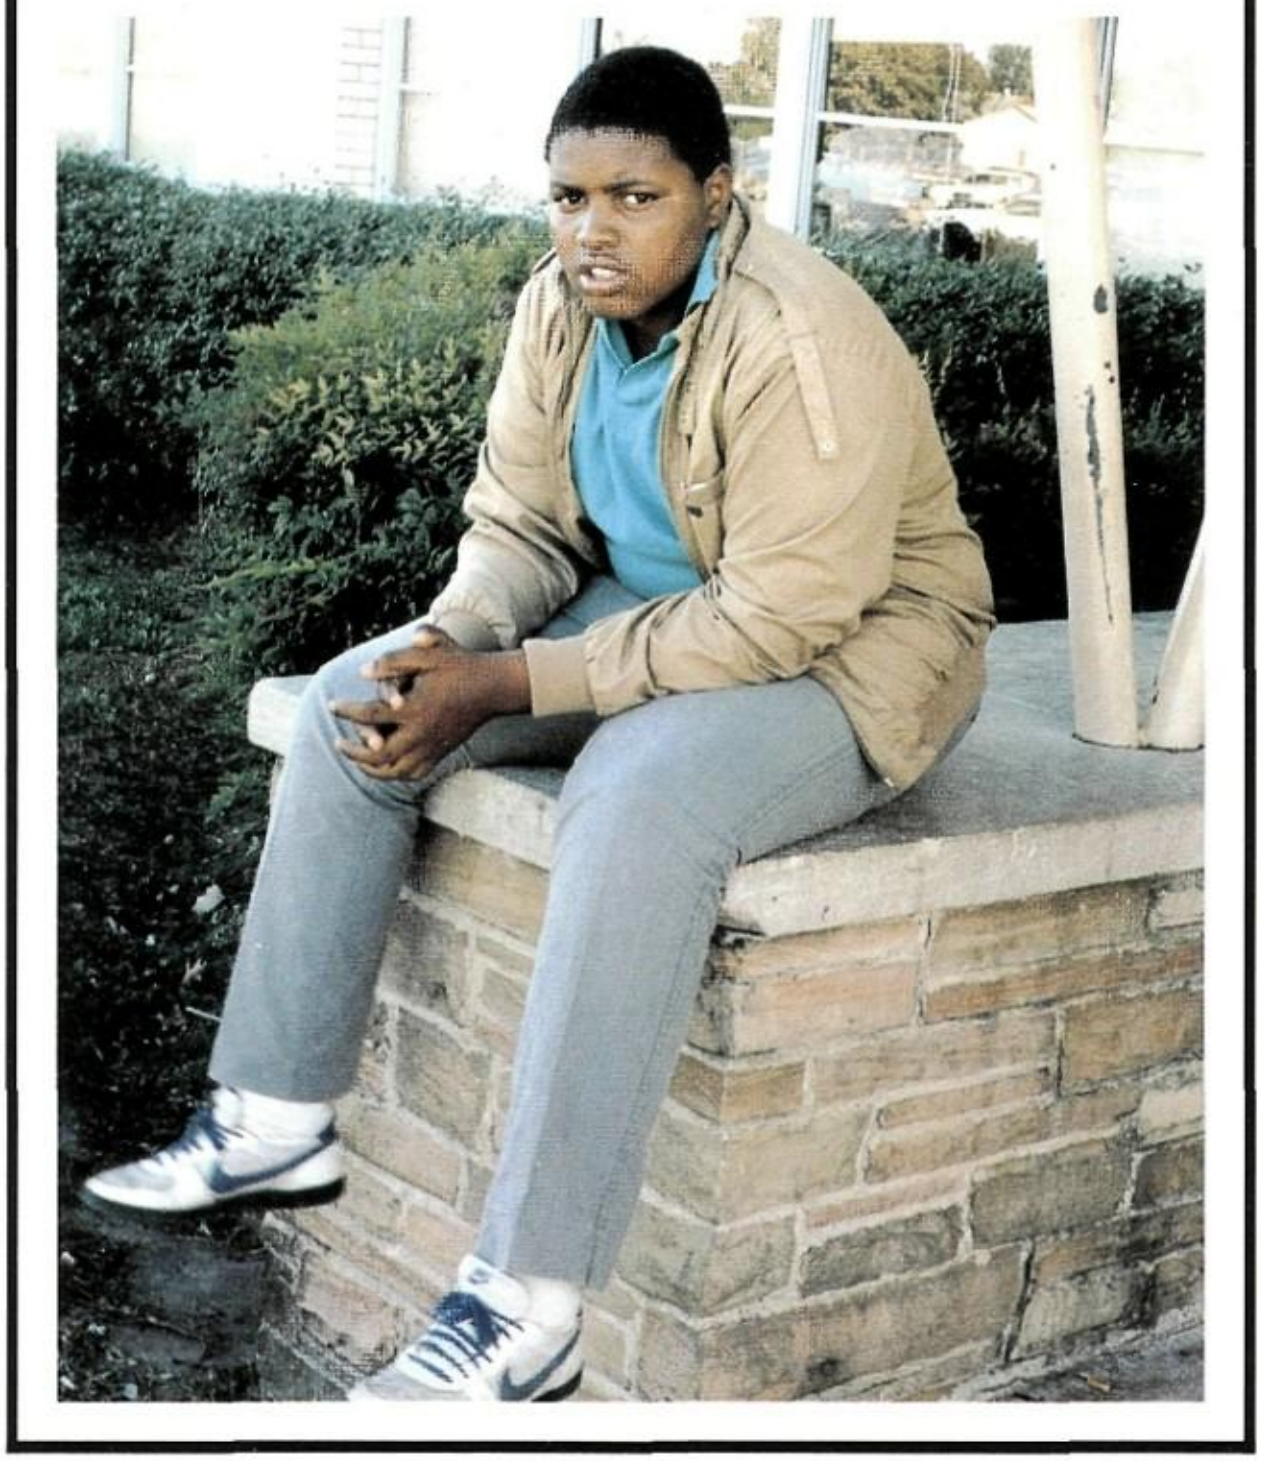
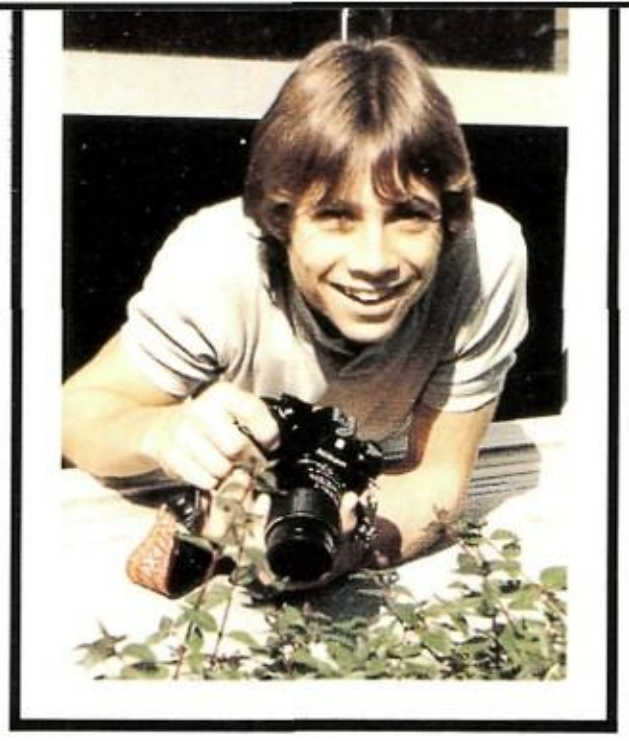
And we will cheer
you all the time!



Being a Spartan is . . .





knowing people .

Seniors

Senior class officers are Kelley Maurer — Vice President, Kim Coburn — Treasurer, Kimber Sanders — President, and Sheryl Scott — Secretary.

The senior class of 1984 set an example of leadership, enthusiasm and pride in Samuell. Successfully or unsuccessfully, they met each challenge and continued to strive for excellence in the classroom and in extra-curricular activities. Many seniors achieved recognition and were rewarded for their hard work and dedication. It was a time for enjoyment, a time for disappointments, and a time for making decisions. Through laughter, tears, sadness and joy the class of 1984 knew what it meant to be a Spartan.

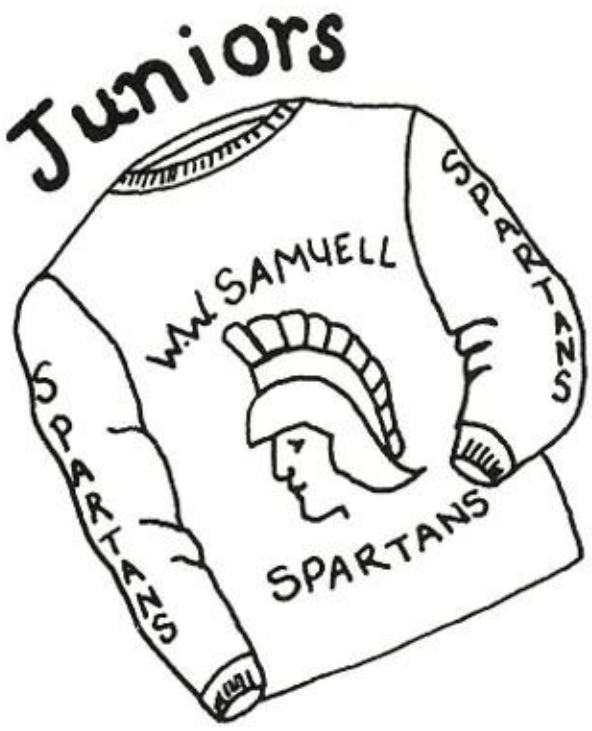
Good Year
Spartans



Junior class officers are Janice Bradley — President, Tierney Hopkins — Vice-President, Melinda Paiz — Secretary.

The junior year brought with it many changes. One of the biggest changes was advancing to the status of upperclassmen. Developing leadership and responsibility was a task that the juniors fulfilled.

The junior class belonged to many organizations including the French club, Thespians, and Spanish club, and they participated in activities such as dances, and sporting events during the year. They had the responsibility of beginning to plan for the future and taking courses necessary for graduation. Of course, the best part of being in the junior class of 1984 was being one step closer to becoming the senior class of 1985.

After frantically running around as freshmen, the excitement of being a sophomore was knowing that they were not at the bottom of the totem pole any longer. Not only was there more freedom, but more doors were opened for advancement.

As they climbed up the pole, many sophomores felt that they were more a part of the school. Sophomores were eligible to belong to more clubs and to participate in more activities. This brought about responsibility. They set examples for the freshmen and took another step toward becoming a member of the senior class of 1986.

Ricky Montalvo, Brenda Taylor, Shannon Roberts, Tina Dodson, and Rochell Aguirre climb the stairs to success.

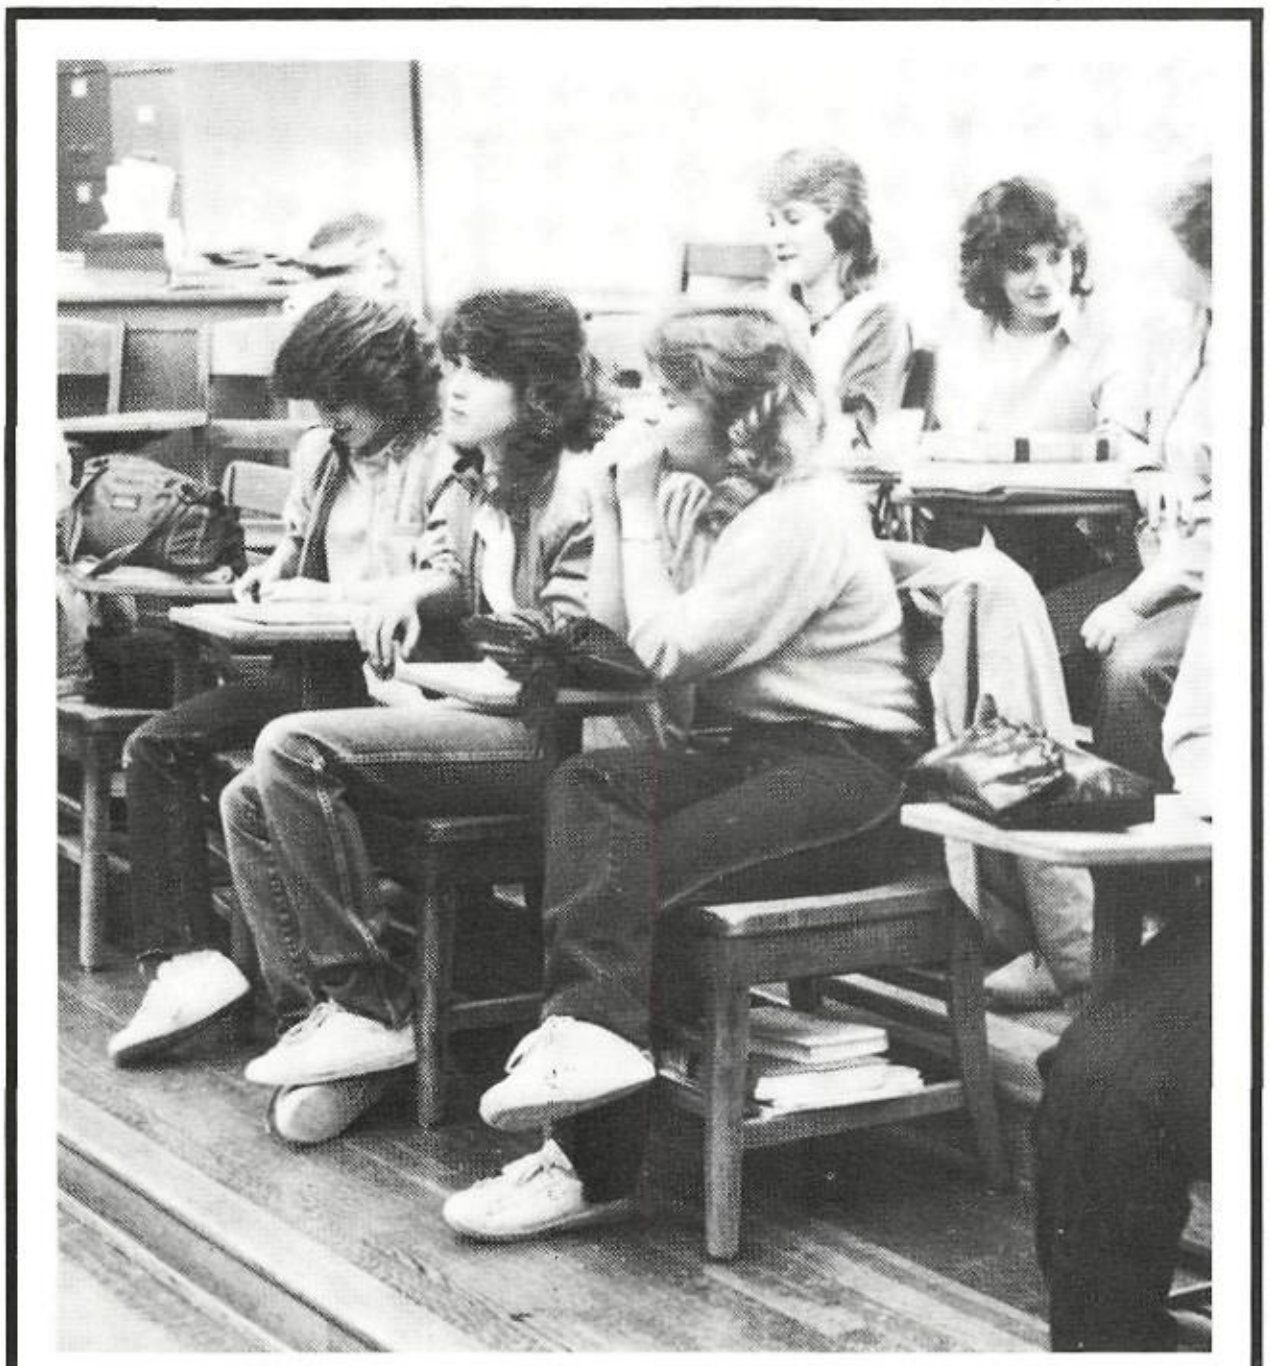
Freshman class offciers are Deanna Brown — Vice-President, Cynthia Espinoza — President, and Crissy Ortiz — Secretary.

The transition from middle school to high school was a big step for freshmen. They had to adjust to new rules and regulations, the size of the school, pep assemblies and being harassed by upper classmen.

Organizations were also a change of pace for freshmen. They had the opportunity to belong to such organizations as Blue Jackets, freshman choir, freshman football, Thepsians, student council, Allied Youth and many others.

For the first time some students were not only required to take their regular classes, but also A.E. English or A.E. math. These classes helped students in areas in which they needed special attention.

The freshman class of 1984 accepted the many changes, grew physically and intellectually and looked forward to their distant senior year.



Belinda Mays, Lisa Braswell, Laura Powell, Sandy Staab, and Cyndi Gibbs try to learn the words to the alma mater in freshman choir.

Mr. Wallace is always ready to referee in any situation.

The staff of W. W. Samuell consisted of administrators, teachers, counselors, the registrar, librarians, secretaries, clerks, paraprofessionals, custodians, and lunchroom personnel. Each of these people contributed a great deal to life at Samuell. They were a dedicated group that worked many hard hours to promote an atmosphere of cooperation, friendliness and respect. They devoted many extra hours sponsoring various organizations.

Two special programs existed at Samuell with special teachers. These programs were the Dallas Regional School for the Deaf, and the special education program. Samuell was very fortunate to be the only DISD high school teaching the hearing impaired. Teachers worked with students on sign language, speech and educational skills.

The W. W. Samuell staff comprised from one to twenty-eight years service in the building. A more dedicated group could not be found anywhere.

PTA paves the way

The purpose of the W. W. Samuell Parent Teacher Association was to involve and educate parents. This group sold pizza kits as their main fund raiser. They also set up a booth at the Pleasant Grove Celebration and sold homemade items.

During the year they provided a special luncheon for the teachers. They also helped with senior activities. Two life memberships were presented by the PTA this year, one to Laura Perez and one to Lillian Strange. The dedication of the PTA yearbook was received by Mr. Shelley. Ms. Mary Kay McCollum was selected as Terrific Teacher from W. W. Samuell by the PTA.

Mrs. Morrison presents Ms. Perez with a Life-Membership award.

Mrs. Stout, Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Gibson discuss the problems of the executive board meeting.

To the Students of W. W. Samuell:

Thanks for allowing me to join your school. I've found this student body to be friendly, warm, caring and proud. You are to be commended for this tradition and challenged to continue.

Our schools are going through many changes at this time. The intentions are to continue to improve your educational opportunities to fit a changing world. Many adjustments will have to be made by you. This is a part of life and a worthy experience. Keep a positive attitude and remember "there are no short-cuts to an education." Education is something you can't fool someone that you have and if you have a good education, no one can take it from you.

To the Torch Staff — I've observed your dedication and loyalty to Samuell and to having an outstanding yearbook. I'm sure this book will continue the tradition of being "the best."

Sincerely,

B. B. Rollings, Jr.

Leaders of the pack

This year was Mr. Rollings' first year at Samuell. He came from the Transportation Magnet. He brought enthusiasm to Samuell and promoted school spirit.

There were three people who assisted Mr. Rollings. Dr. Baca, Dean of Instruction, accepted the responsibility for the instructional programs including curriculum development, counseling services, classroom instruction, and evaluation of all programs. Mr. Bratcher was responsible for student welfare, school administration, and discipline. Mr. Shelley was in charge of student safety and welfare, and discipline. He was also responsible for senior activities.

In dedication to Mr. C. B. Crook

Mr. Clements B. Crook was selected as the dedicatee of the 1984 TORCH. The senior class voted and the 1984 TORCH staff made the final decision in selecting Mr. Crook. Mr. Crook was known for his sudden sight-reading tests, his thought for the day and his artistic temperament.

This year completed Mr. Crook's thirty-fourth year of teaching, twenty-seven of which were spent at Samuell. He has taught freshman choir, mixed choir, concert choir, and an elite group which he organized, the JESTERS!

Mr. Crook had many responsibilities including preparing the choirs for contest and the annual spring and holiday shows. Mr. Crook continued the tradition of an annual musical, which was the highlight each year in the musical department. These musicals were fondly remembered by students and faculty alike. His last musical, Once Upon A Mattress, was as usual a triumph and one of the best.

It was for his encouragement of students, his guidance as teacher and friend, and his time, effort and dedication to his students and the music department that we dedicated the 1984 TORCH to Mr. Clements B. Crook.

Another winning season
Varsity makes bi-district

This year the 1983 Spartan varsity football team defended their district championship crown. It was more difficult to stay on top than to be one of the many trying to reach the peak. With this in mind, the Spartans prepared for their 1983 season.

Losing the season opener to North Mesquite got the Spartans off to a bad start, but they refused to give up and went on to defeat South Garland and Mesquite. For the first time in a long time the Spartans were on the road. They played Denton in Denton but came back with a disappointing loss. The next game against Woodrow Wilson was certainly the highlight of the season, with a winning touchdown scored in the final seconds. A win over Skyline, Bryan Adams and South Oak Cliff set the Spartans up for a chance at the district championship. The loss to Roosevelt placed the Spartans in a tie with Spruce. Unable to win the final game of the season, Samuell advanced to the playoffs as runner-up. The loss of the bi-district game against Highland Park brought the season to a successful but sad end.

J.V. moves up

The J.V. football team finished their season with a record of four wins, five losses and one tie. The thirty-two members of the team worked hard practicing during sixth and seventh period and after school.

Coach Peterson stated, "The team's enthusiasm was outstanding, especially when they realized that they had a chance to tie Spruce for district." He added, "Many of the thirty-two members will be a great asset to future varsity teams."

Cornell Record leaves Woodrow's defensive backs far behind.

Varsity sets up for a challenge

The Varsity volleyball team finished their season with a 3-11 record. The team was forced to endure some very difficult struggles this season, namely the loss of four players shortly before the start of district play. The result of this misfortune was that the team pulled together even more and completed an outstanding season.

The highlight of the season was the defeat of South Oak Cliff in which the team showed an outstanding team effort. The varsity volleyball team was coached by Ms. Glasco.

Girls bounce into action

Girls participated in varsity basketball and J.V. basketball, as well as J.V. volleyball. Each team practiced many hours and worked hard. The varsity basketball team, coached by Mr. Crafton, finished the season with a 3-11 record. The J.V. basketball team, composed entirely of freshmen and first year players, finished the season with a 0-12 record. Their coach, Ms. Glasco, said, "With a year's experience and growth, we look forward to a much improved season next year."

The J.V. volleyball team learned rules and regulations this year. Coached by Mr. Crafton, they finished the season with a 3-11 record.

Varsity slams again

The boys varsity basketball team finished their season with twenty-four wins and ten losses. They placed second in district and advanced to the playoffs against Wilmer Hutchins on February 24th. This game went into overtime, but the Spartans were defeated. Coach Scott commented that the team had a super attitude and that he was very proud of them.

Three players from the team received honors. Ernest Neal was named all district honorable mention, and Floyd Macon was named all district second team. Frank Williams was named all district, all metro, all regional and all state. He was also named to the TABC All Star Team, the Faith All Star Team and the THSCA All Star Team. He was named to the Texas Basketball Preview Super Team, and was also a McDonald's All American. In district 10-AAAAA, he was named player of the year.

Varsity baseball

Up to bat

The varsity baseball team finished a fairly successful season with an overall record of twelve wins and nine losses. The team had pre-season victories over Lakeview, Plano East, Seagoville, Bishop Lynch and Greenhill. In district the team defeated Roosevelt, South Oak Cliff, and Woodrow Wilson. They were defeated in district by Skyline, Bryan Adams, and Spruce.

Coach Johnson, a graduate of Samuell, returned this school year as coach of the varsity baseball team. He stated that "overall he felt that the team was quite successful considering the lack of experience that they had."

Second baseman, David Askew and designated hitter, Shawn Newsome placed on the all-district first team. Third baseman, Dave Lane, center fielder, Wence Castellano and catcher, James Childress placed on the all-district second team.

Hit and run

The junior varsity baseball team ended their season with seven wins and five losses. Woodrow Wilson forfeited a game to Samuell. Many players tried out for the team, in fact so many that cuts had to be made. Seventeen young men made the team. Considering their lack of experience the team was very successful. The team worked on skills that they already possessed and developed new ones.

Coach Scott, the J.V. coach, felt that the team had an outstanding season. He stated, "the team was cooperative, enthusiastic and handled criticism well. These young men worked hard and contributed a great deal to the team."

Cross country

The race is on . . .

The cross country track team consisted of seven boys and for the first time one girl. Most of the students ran sixth and seventh periods. The students that were involved in other activities ran before school and later in the evenings. Members of the team also ran at night and on weekends. The students averaged twenty five to forty miles a week, during practice.

At the meets the girls were required to run two miles and the boys three miles. The cross country team participated in meets at Lancaster and Arlington, as well as local meets at Norbuck Park. The district meet was also held at Norbuck Park. Coach Ballard said, "It was the first time that she sponsored a group that all members attended all meets." She also said, "They were a very dependable group."

On the right track

The boys varsity track team consisted of twelve returning members this year. The team participated in the Bishop Lynch meet, the Addison meet, the Richardson Relays and the North Dallas Invitational. The team won a total of fifty-three medals and ribbons.

Dwight Sanders was ranked in the area in the three hundred meter hurdles, Kenneth Tatum was ranked in the three hundred and thirty meter hurdles, and Alfred James was ranked in the long jump.

This was the first year that the girls' track team participated in varsity competition. There were eighteen girls on the team. Coach Miller stated that the girls had a good attitude and that they probably competed in the toughest district in the state.

The girls on the team all had an excellent speed for relays and hurdles. Two members of the team qualified for the finals in district. Vevetta Wright qualified in the four hundred meter relay and Gloria Johnson in the high jump. Vickie Patt set three new records at the district track meet in the one hundred meter relay, the two hundred meter relay and in the long jump. Razz Ma Tazz

Putting on the ritz

The concert choir put on the Ritz with Razz Ma Tazz on Friday, September 16th. The students only had a week of preparation. There were many conflicts including the confusion of the opening of school, a mini pep assembly at night, and a Thursday night football game which interfered with rehearsals. In addition, Bill Lindley sprained his hand, Beth Hairgrove lost her voice, and Lara Moore pulled a muscle in her leg. The choir had a total of two rehearsals and one full dress rehearsal.

Despite the rush, the talent was outstanding. There were a variety of songs, dances, and skits. The director was Mr. Clements B. Crook, and his student directors were Kimber Sanders and Marietta Watson.

D.C. Sound provided just the right touch to get the Thanksgiving holidays off to a good start.

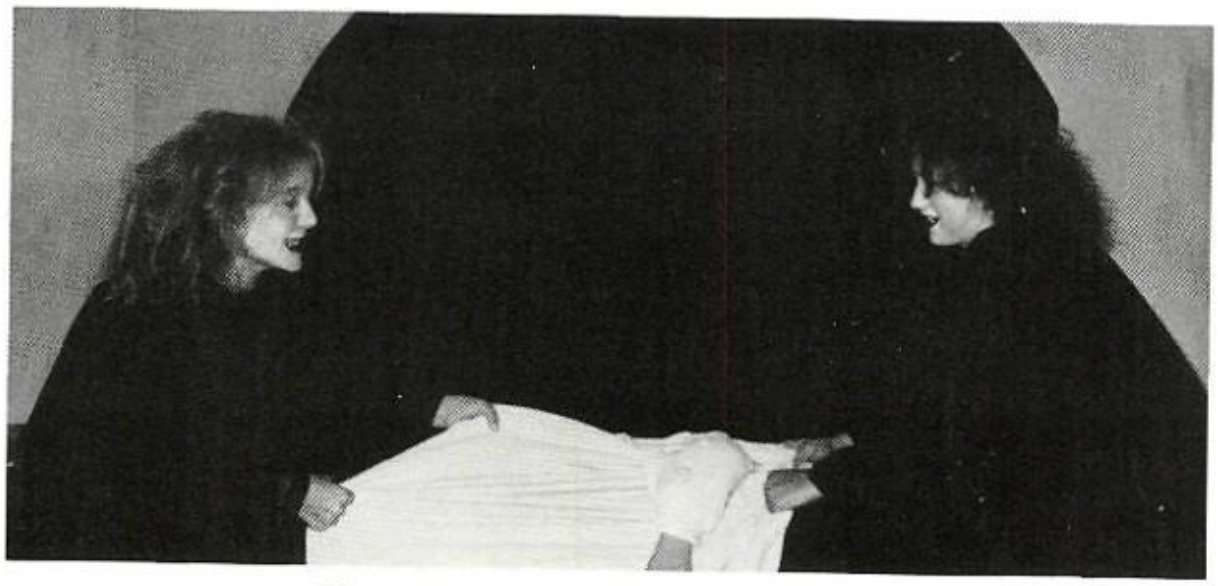
Dracula haunts the Samuell stage

The blood curdling story of Dracula by John Mattera appeared on November 17th and 18th at 7:30 pm. The story is set in England where the mysterious Count Dracula lived on a large estate next to an insane asylum run by the naive Dr. Seward. Others that made up the cast include Professor Van Hesling who must convince Dr. Seward that Count Dracula is a vampire; Reinfield, a lunatic; the beautiful Lucy Western; Charles, the butler; as well as three female vampires.

The plot develops with all the excitement of the original and then, in the end, the audience was given the jolt of a startling double twist. The exciting stage effects and props added a unique touch to the mysterious setting.

Mr. Jeff Morrow was the director of the Thespians first production of the year. Matt Lindsey worked the sound system and Ronald Stout was in charge of the lighting.

Professor Van Helsing and Peter Seward help Charles up.



The women vampires fight over their dinner.

Dracula wakes after a day of rest.

Mr. Morrow and the Dracula cast take five.

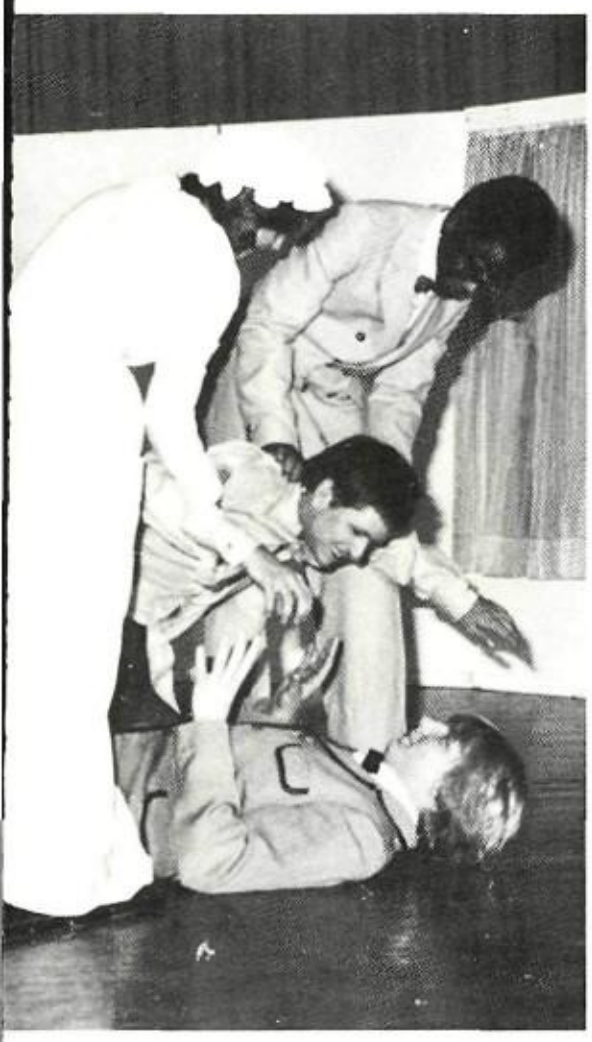
Professor Van Helsing holds off Dracula with a cross.

Dracula lives on to get Lucy.

Charles serves breakfast to the Westerns and Mina Murray.

Dracula flies off after biting Lucy and leaving her helpless.



The servant and Dr. Seward pull Mr. Renfield away after his attack on Professor Van Helsing.

Deaf Spartans celebrate Christmas

One of the highlights of the year for the deaf students was the Christmas Dance sponsored by the deaf cheerleaders and pep club which was held on December 2nd from 7:30 until 10:00p.m. This event took place in the cafeteria which was decorated with traditional red and green Christmas colors. Sandwiches, chips, cookies and cakes were provided.

From the senior class the Deaf King and Queen Stanley Polk and Debbie Odom were presented along with the senior court. This year to involve more deaf students the freshman, sophomore, and junior class each selected a prince and princess.

Emcees for the evening were Kim Mitchell and Keith Kissentaner. The sound was provided by Matt Lindsey and Joel Ballew.

Stanley Polk and Debbie Odom dance to "Real Love."

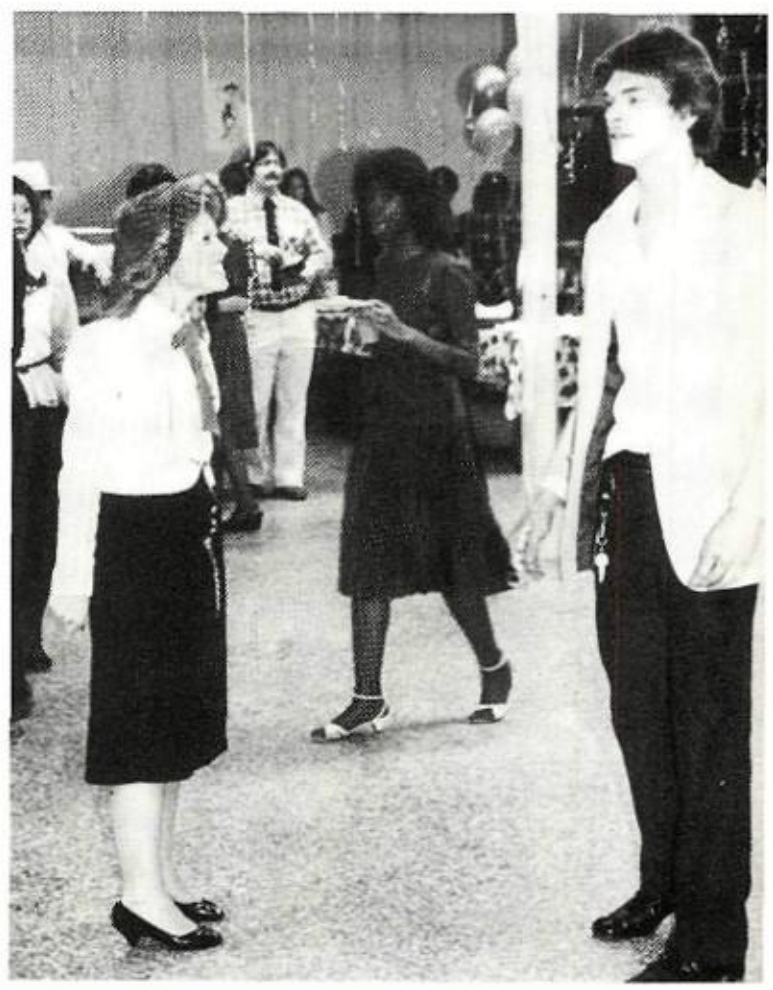
Freshman Princess and Prince are Stacy Wagner and Darren Veail.



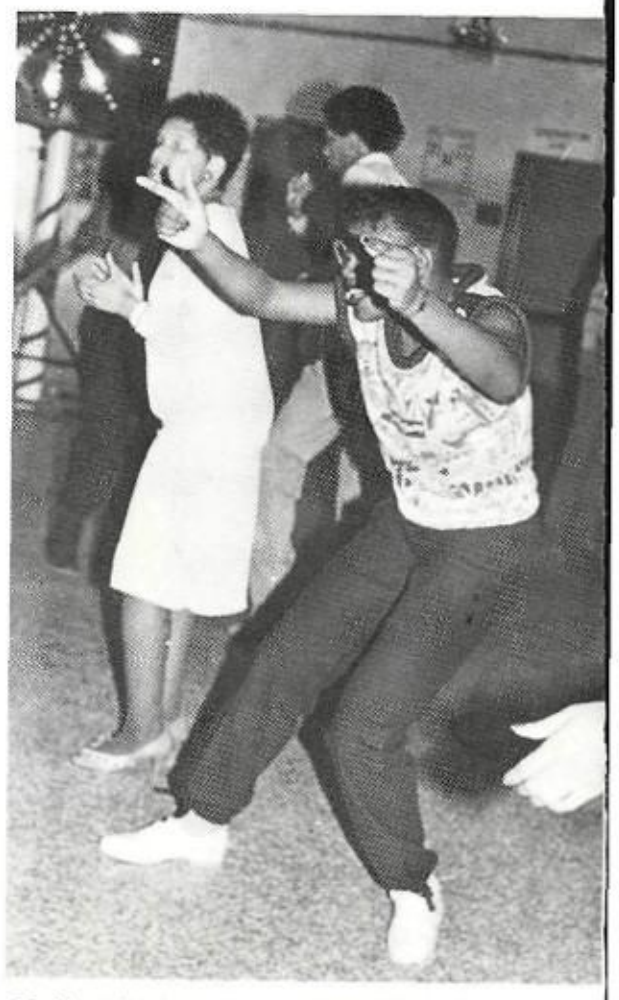
Robert Phelps teaches Debbie Odom a new step.

Roy Phillips and the Starlets make a new friend.

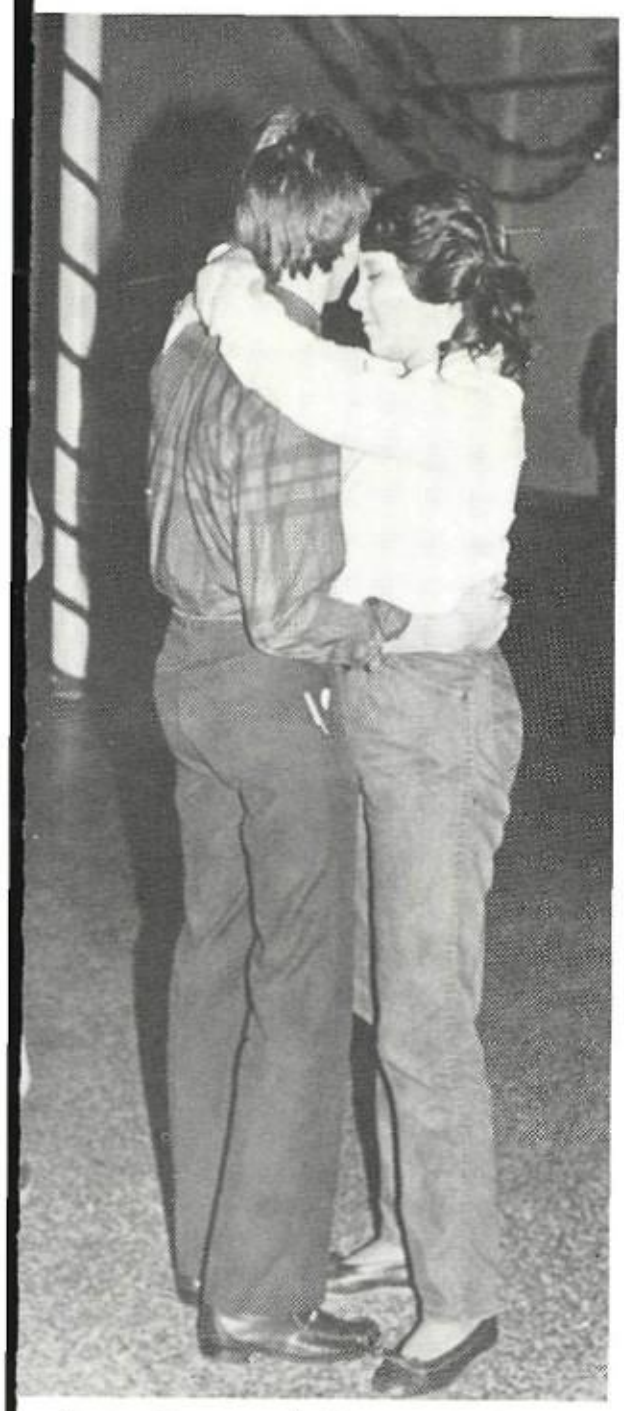
Holiday fun for everyone

The holiday season at Samuell was filled with joy and happiness. The hall decorations and the carolling by the concert choir lifted spirits. The holiday dance, sponsored by the student council on December 9th, added to the cheer. Music at the dance was provided by D.C. Sound.

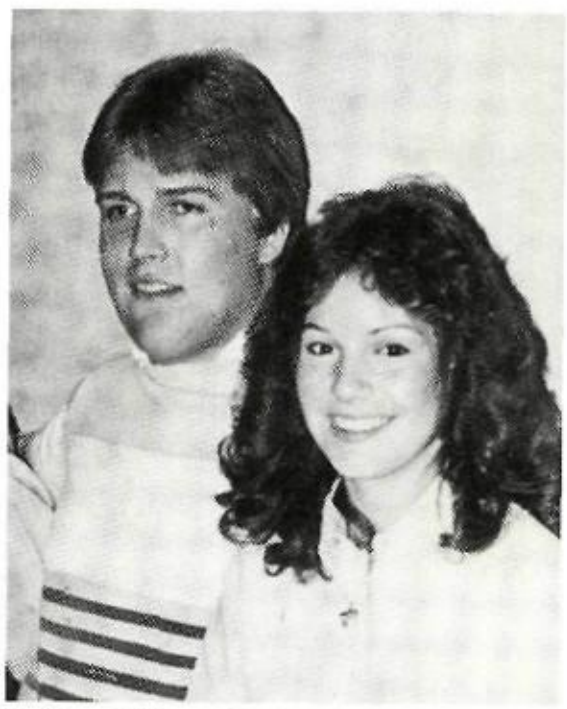
Also, adding to the season was the traditional Holiday Festival held on December 12th which was attended by many students, parents and other participating schools. The unexpected snowfall on December 16th, the last day of school before the holidays, led to snowball fights and put Spartans in the holiday spirit.



Deidra Walton dances "All Night Long."



Scott Dunn and Tracey Poole make "Memories."



Robby Fallin and Rhonda Lindsey watch from the sideline at the holiday dance.

Starlets hit Broadway

The Samuell stage was graced with the 1983-1984 Starlets on January 27th at 7:30. This year's theme was "Starlets on Broadway."

Dances were performed to various songs from Broadway musicals such as Annie, Grease, Oklahoma, Chorus Line, and Cats. Other acts included the traditional senior hokey pokey and two solos. The highlight of the show was the finale performed to "If They Could See Me Now" from Sweet Charity.

The emcees, Bill Lindley, Jay VanSyckle, Roy Phillips, and Shawn Newsome, added their own touch of class to the show by arresting the audience with their entrance. Instead of a traditional entrance, they were handcuffed and escorted in by a policeman through the side door.

The director of the show was Ms. Debbie Lynd with the help of student director Marietta Watson. Tamla Jaggers was the accompanist for the solos.

Marietta Watson sings a medley from Funny Girl.

It's "Grease Lightning" for sophomores, Denise Tribe, Cherry Brown, Lara Moore, Tammy Ledyard, Sabrina Thompson, and Michelle Young.

Cupid's arrow has struck Kristi Stout and Curtis Miller.

A celebration of love

The Spartans celebrated their love at the Valentine Dance on February 10th from 7:30 until 10:30 p.m. All students were dressed semi-formally for the occasion. Once again D.C. Sound provided the music for the evening. Cookies and punch were served by the student council members. Students also had the opportunity to have their picture taken for a night to remember.

The Valentine King and Queen and their court were presented only at the dance this year. The court consisted of two girls and two boys from each class. The senior class was represented by three girls and three boys from which the King and Queen were selected. The 1984 Valentine King and Queen were Marcus Camper and Stella Bagley.

Autry Sanders and Brian Rayford check out the Valentine sweethearts.

Strike up the band

The lab band's annual variety show, Music On Stage, was presented on two consecutive nights, Friday, February 17th and Saturday, February 18th. Mr. Bill Wartes was the director of the show, with Kirk Buchanan and Mark Woody as emcees. Matt Lindsey and Stacy Chapman were in charge of the sound system, and Ronnie Stout was head of the lighting. This year's show was dedicated to the principal, Mr. Rollings.

The entertainment consisted of many solos, dances, musical groups and skits. The feature of the show was the lab band playing a medley of country songs including "Tumblin' Tumbleweed," "Please Release Me," and "I Can't Stop Loving You." The director of Jazz Studies at Eastfield, Curt Bradshaw, added to the success of the show with his special musical arrangements.

Stacy Chapman and Beth Hairgrove are Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton for two nights.

Emcees, Kirk Buchanan and Mark Woody, drag Bill Lindley to the operating table.

Greg Stegall and Jeff Boyd take a "Power Trip."

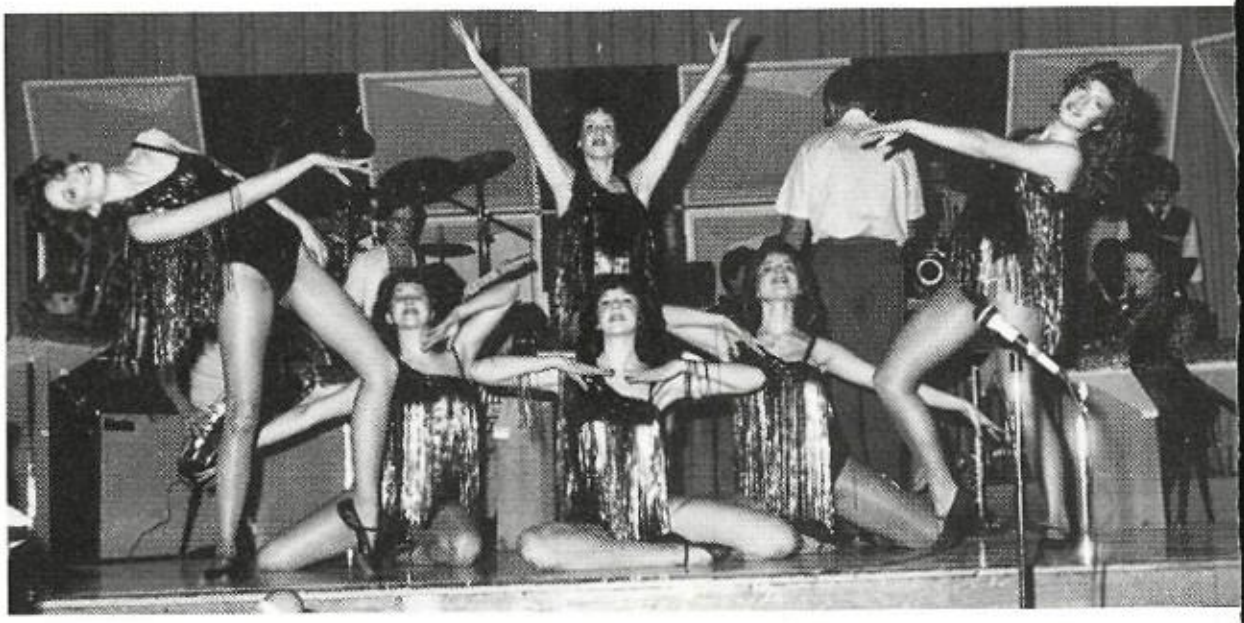
"Gliding" is easy for Damon Johnston.

Beth Hairgrove sings "You Needed Me."

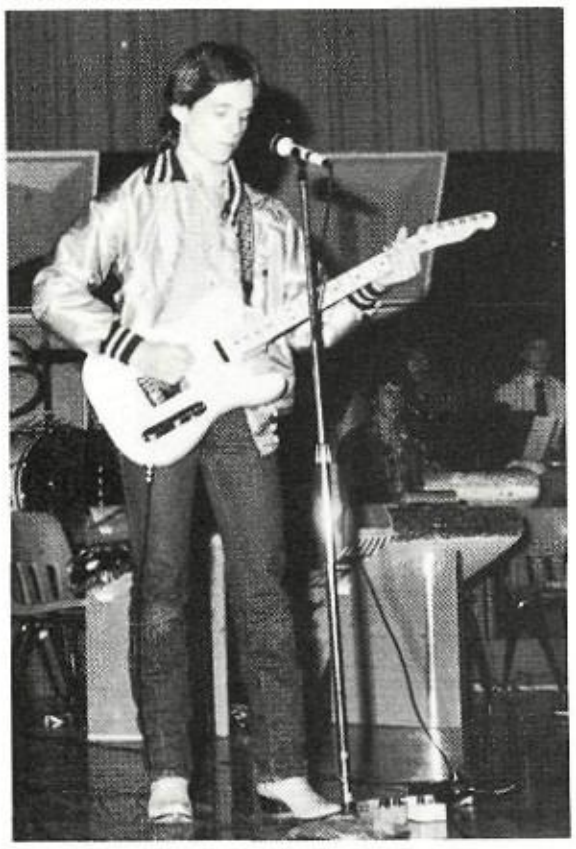
Beth Hairgrove, Darita Pool, Gloria Cruz, and Terri Bergeaux end with Solid Gold.

Jeff Boyd asks, "Why Lady Why?"

Billy McCarter and Steve Hyles watch for Mr. Wartes' cue.



The 1983-1984 Starlet Officers are followed by "The White Shadow."



Scot Chapman picks and grins.

James Lyles "shows" Kim Pitts how he feels.

Kirk Buchanan dreams of being a concert pianist.

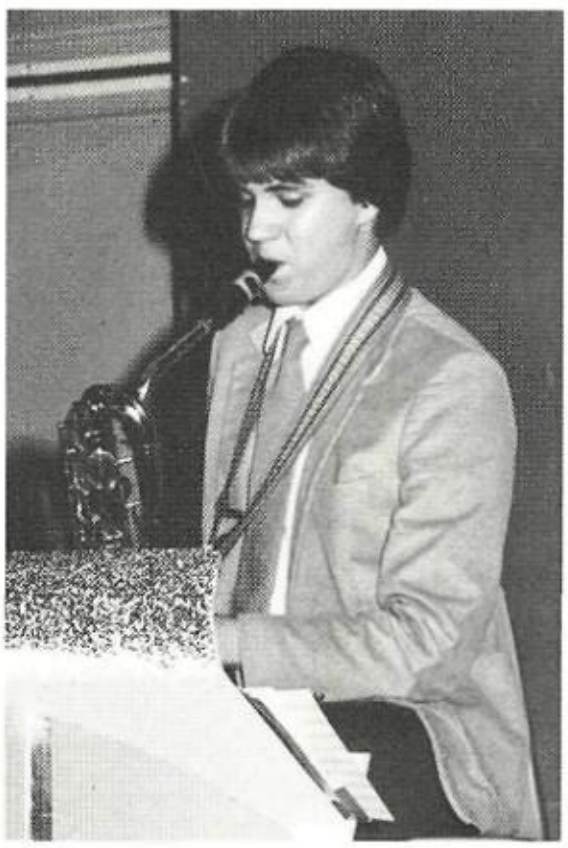
Darita Pool is walking "Back to the Jungle."

Kim Coburn enjoys playing the flute in her last band show.

Craig Golden, Bill Lindley, and Mark Woody have never known a "Lady Down on Love."



Joel Ballew is just a "Tumblin' Tumbleweed."

Spartans go for gold

The Olympics was the theme for the deaf spring dance which was held March 9th from 7:30 until 10:30. Deaf Spartans went for the gold. Students who had participated in sports or a sport related activity were recognized.

In all sports, members of the varsity teams received plaques. J.V. and freshman team members received certificates. Members of the deaf pep club received certificates while officers received plaques. The 1983-1984 deaf cheerleaders were recognized and the 1984-1985 deaf cheerleaders were announced.

The decorations carried out the theme.. Sandwiches, cake, chips and dip, cookies and punch were provided to make this a truly spectacular event.

Anthony Webb, Joe Larry Contreras, Doug Hathorn, Jerry Perez, Keith Leegood, Matthew Martinez, Diana Martinez, and Stacy Wagner are presented with sports certificates and plaques.

DJ's Kevin Meredith, Barbra Gregg, Matt Lindsey, and Joel Ballew provide the sound for the dance.

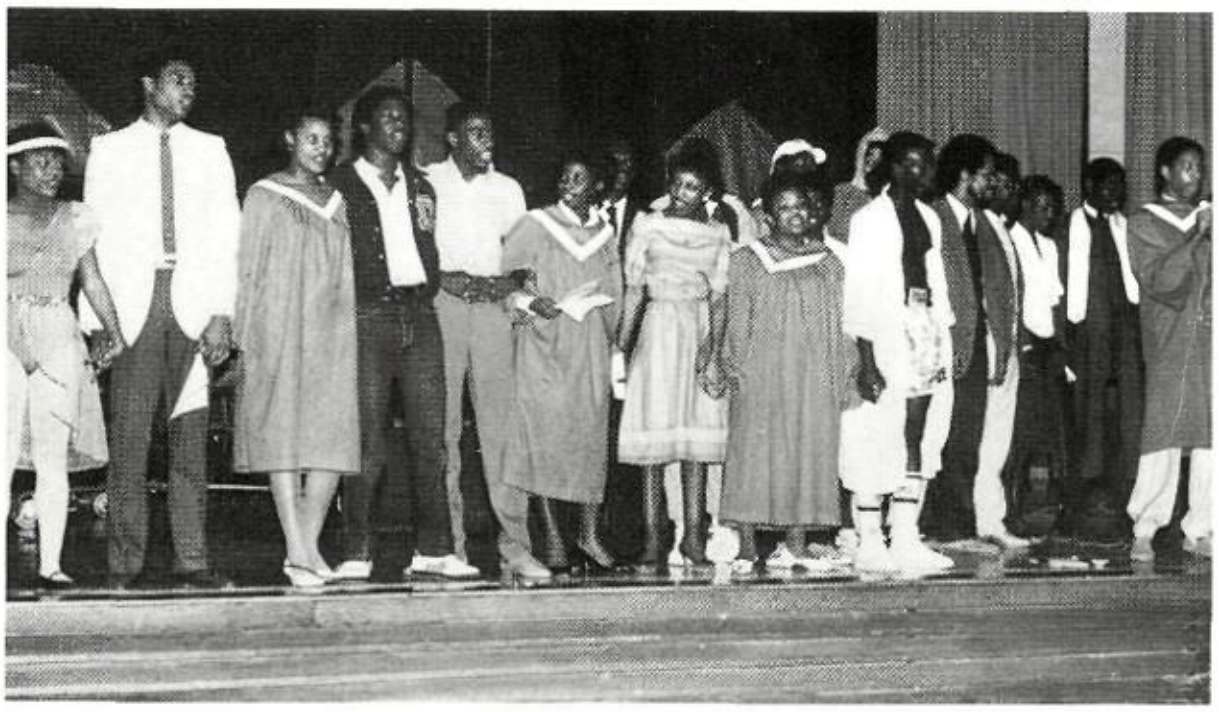
The 1984-1985 deaf cheerleaders, Melissa Welch, Chantay Durham, Diana Martinez, Michelle Welch, and Ms. McKinney are presented at the Spring Dance.

Betcha didn't know that

Spartans celebrated Black History Month with the program, "I Betcha Didn't Know That," which was presented to the PTA on February 28th and to the student body on March 8th.

The program emphasized the cultural contribution of blacks and consisted of tributes to black jazz musicians, popular black music of today, gospel music and to blacks in sports. The mistress of ceremony was Rhonda Walker and the narrators were Toi Haynes, Chris Webb and Mary Williams. The sponsor of the program was Mr. Battle with the help of Ms. Russell, Ms. Daniels, Ms. Hall, Ms. Knox, and Ms. Smith.

Ramona Leaks sings "Amazing Grace."



The cast joins hands and "Lifts Every Voice and Sings."

Bryron Parker and Devon Hampton break on the Samuell stage.

Marcus Camper and Kirk Buchanan are "Ebony and Ivory."

Stella Bagley dances to "Everything Must Change."

Mary Williams and Chris Webb are on their way to the bus stop.

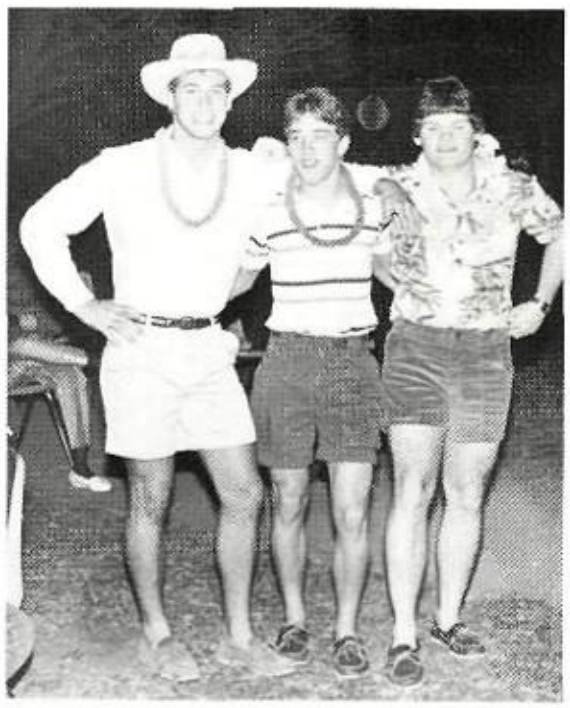
Spartans go Hawaiian

The Spartans went Hawaiian on April 6th from 7:30 until 10:30 p.m. This was the last dance of the year, and for a change the dance was held in the courtyard. There were colored lights, fish nets, and other Hawaiian decorations. The music was played by Keith Roberts. Students dressed for the occasion and wore Hawaiian leis which were provided by the student council.

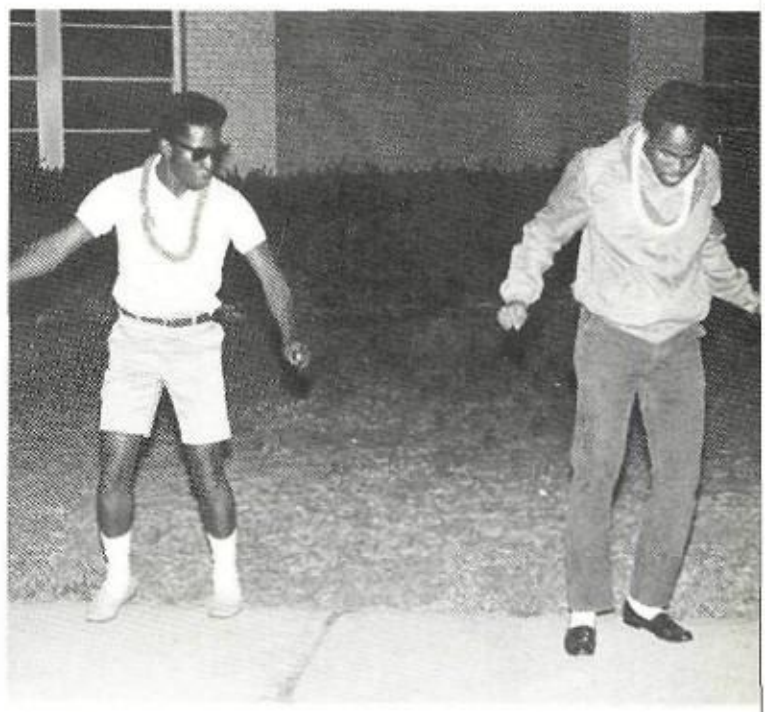
Although the dance was not well attended, students enjoyed themselves. This provided a last chance for students to say aloha to the seniors.

Joel Ballew is Hawaiianized.

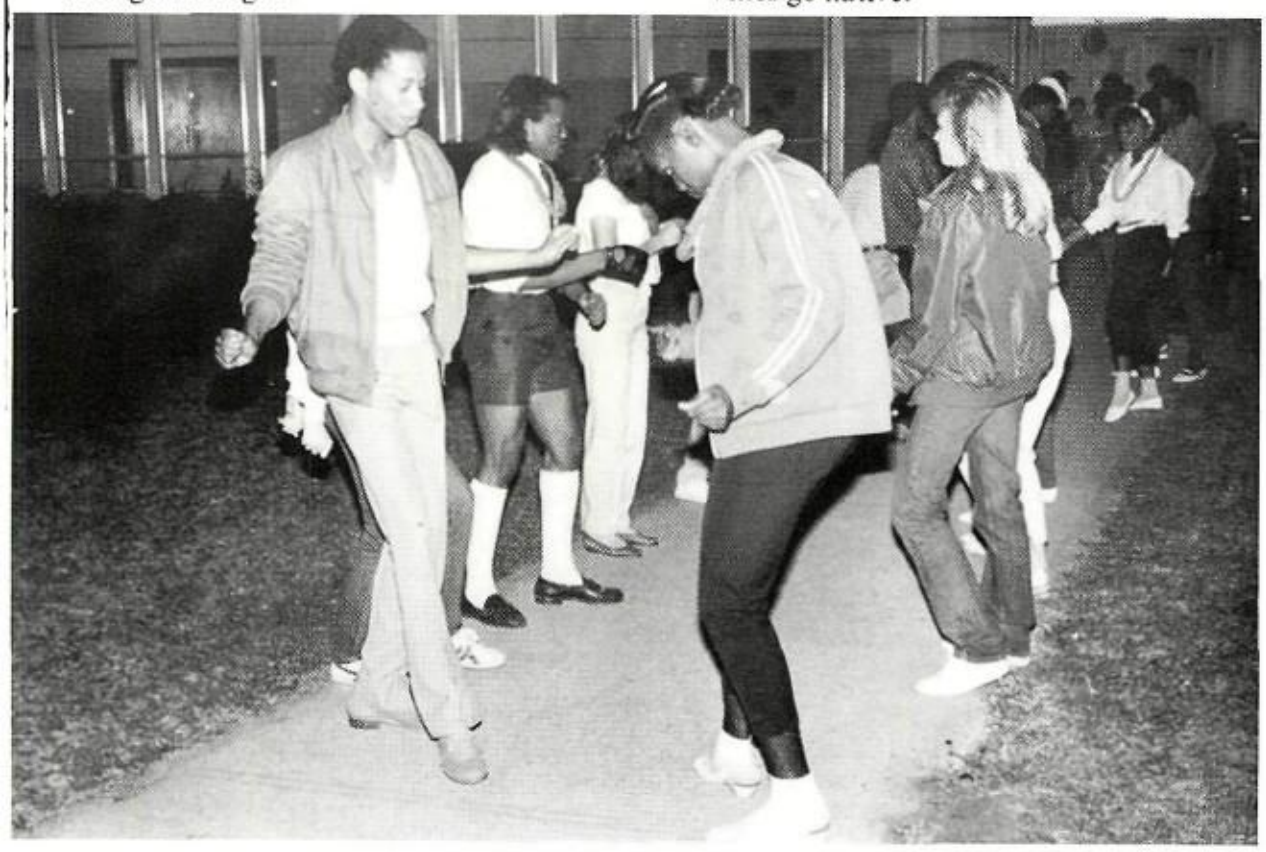
Kirk Buchanan and Susan Presley tango through the night.



Paul Donaldson, Mark Carlock, and David Vines go native.



Gerald Ford and Autry Sanders do the "Boy George."



Chris Webb and Tasha Duncan have "shackles" on their feet.

Matt Lindsey asks, "Where are the hula dancers?"

Spartans wait at the Bus Stop

A night to remember
Once Upon A Mattress

The Concert choir presented the hilarious comedy hit, Once Upon A Mattress, Friday and Saturday, April 27th and 28th. This was the exciting musical version of the Princess and the Pea. The musical was filled with fun, beautiful music and exhausting dances.

Much time and effort went into Mr. Crook's final production of a Samuell musical. Mr. Crook and the cast and crew spent many hours over a period of months learning lines and songs, finding props and building the set. The success of Once Upon A Mattress made all this worthwhile.

Assistant director, Sharon Kraus and Tamla Jaggers were accompanists. Marietta Watson was student director, and the stage manager was Billy McCarter.

Dauntless (Stacy Chapman) tells Fred (Lisa Hoppert) she passed the test.

JESTERS! — the final curtain

The 1983-1984 JESTERS! and Mr. Crook bid their final farewell at the annual JESTERS! Show on May 10th. Along with the JESTERS! regular songs, there were solos, duets and quartets, as well as Mr. Crook performing for the first and last time on the Samuell stage. He sang an adaptation of "I've Grown Accustomed to Your Face." The 1984-1985 JESTERS! were also announced during the evening. Each member told of an event remembered from the past year. The show concluded with "Starmaker" dedicated to Mr. Crook.

James Lyles and Beth Hairgrove sing "The Rose."

Kim Coburn is "half out of her head" over Rob Stokes.

Craig Golden tells Stacy Chapman that he is the "Leader of the Band."

Mr. Crook "has grown accustomed to" this place.

Kimber Sanders and Bill Lindley bring back memories.

Outstanding students recognized

The student council presented an awards assembly on May 15th. The 1985 officers of the student council, Matt Lindsey, Joel Ballew, Mandy Byrd and Melissa Carol made the presentations. Students were recognized for their perfect attendance, and for making the "A" or "B" honor roll. Also outstanding students, who were chosen by the faculty in each department, were honored. There were also various awards presented including journalism awards, athletic awards, allied youth awards, drama awards, J.V. cheerleader awards, math awards, FHA awards and National Honor Society awards. Ms. Jones presented awards to the 1984 student council officers.

During the assembly, nineteen graduating seniors were recognized as being the recipients of various scholarships ranging from one hundred and fifty dollars up to eight thousand dollars.

Editor-in-chief of the 1984 TORCH, Sheryl Scott, announced the underclassman favorites and the dedicatee of the 1984 TORCH, Mr. Crook. Susan Presley presented the senior favorites to the student body. Tina Nuckols and Shelly Reed announced senior superlatives.

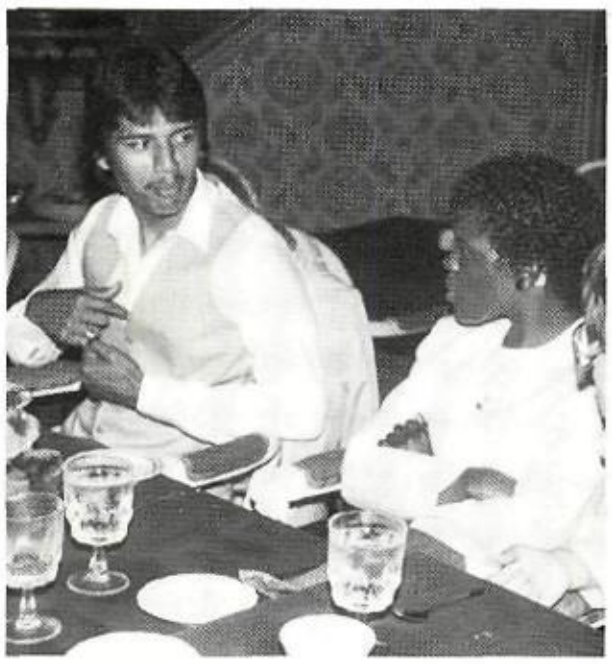
Seniors dine out

The senior luncheon was held at the Grand Crystal Palace on May 18th at one o'clock. The lunch consisted of filet mignon, salad, broccoli, rolls, a peach, and for dessert, an ice cream sundae. After the meal a western musical comedy show was performed by the waiters and waitresses.

A good time was had by all, despite the fact many seniors parked in the wrong place and had to go out in the pouring rain to move their cars and spent the entire afternoon drying out.



Jerry Perez tells Kim Daniels, "I am full."

Senior Superlatives

Cream of the crop

One of the most prestigious awards for seniors at Samuell was senior superlative. There were ninety students nominated by the faculty for Senior Superlatives. Out of those ninety, thirty students were selected. These students were selected on the basis of their outstanding peer rapport, citizenship, dependability, responsibility and attitude.

The Senior Superlatives were academically superior students who were involved in organizations, sports, and other extra-curricular activities. They were among the top all around students at Samuell. Many could be seen at school as early as seven a.m., and many stayed until late at night.

The Senior Superlatives were announced by Tina Nuckols and Shelly Reed in the awards assembly which was held on Tuesday, May 15th. Each student was recognized in the assembly, and each student received a certificate.

Out with the old . . .
. . . in with the new

The traditional Blue and Gold Game, held on May 18th, was the first for some and the last for others. The game began with the introduction of the football team and coaches, followed by the presentation of the colors and a performance by the ROTC girls drill team.

The 1984 varsity cheerleaders cheered for the last time on the field, while the 1985 varsity cheerleaders found out what it was like to be a cheerleader. During half time, the senior Starlets were introduced, and they performed their last routine to the recording, "Manhunt." The new 1984-1985 Starlets performed their routine to "Private Eyes," played by the band. Also, during half time the senior athletes were recognized and the 1984-1985 Spartan Image and banner team were announced. The senior guys made their traditional run across the field.

The game ended with the blue team defeating the gold with a score of 27 to 14.

The ROTC color guard proudly presents the colors.

Bill Lindley is sadly sidelined for his last game as a varsity cheerleader.

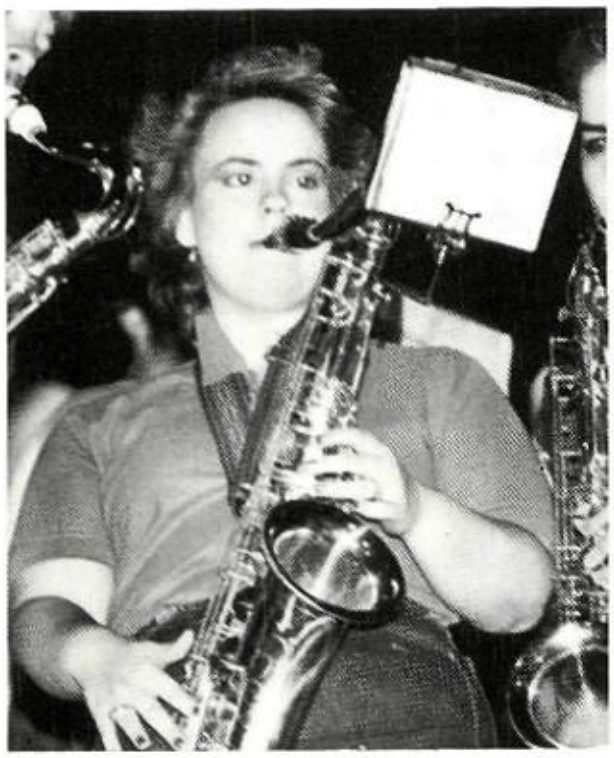
The Spartan band plays "It's Today" for the Starlets to march in.

Susan Presley watches the old and the new.

Scot Chapman, Jeff Kirkwood, Carlos Amador and Don Morgan have the right horn but the wrong uniform.

Number 30, Lee Still, breaks through the gold's line of defense.

It's a little sad for Roy Phillips and Shawn Newsome to watch the game from the stands.



Kim Coburn plays the fight song one last time.

Baccalaureate — an inspiration

The Baccalaureate service was held Sunday afternoon, May 20th at 2:00 p.m. in the auditorium. The service began with the invocation by National Honor Society president, Lisa Hoppert, followed by two choral selections "For the Beauty of the Earth" and "Sing Unto God" from the Concert Choir. The sermon was given by Rev. Steve Gibson of Pleasant Mound Methodist Church. Kimber Sanders, senior class president, gave the benediction and the choir closed the service with the sacred hymn "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

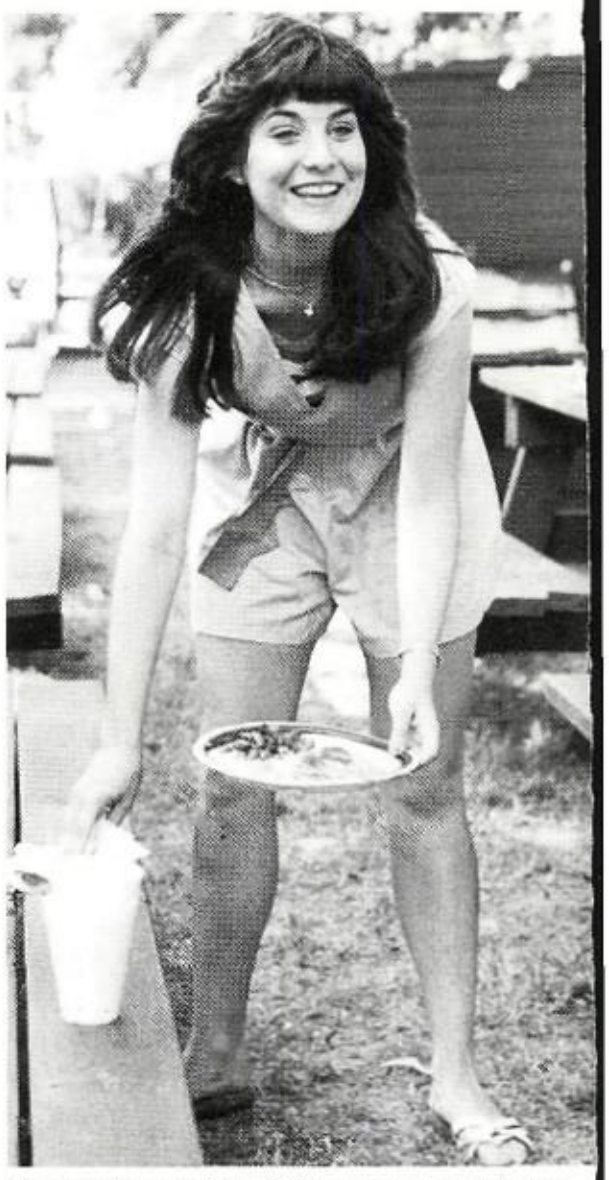
Seniors play at picnic

For the first time, the senior class of 1984 had a picnic sponsored by the PTA at the Cedar Canyon Club from four p.m. until eight p.m. on Friday, May 25th. Seniors and their dates attended.

In the pool, seniors enjoyed having chicken fights, performing stunts off of the diving board, and sunbathing on the deck. One of the highlights of the day was when the seniors threw Mr. Shelley in the pool. They also played horseshoes, tennis, volleyball, ping pong, as well as video games. Some seniors relived their childhood on the carousel, the kiddy cars, the slide and swings.

A dinner of barbeque, potato salad, baked beans, bread, pickles, peppers and tea was served at five. The picnic gave seniors an opportunity to relax and visit with their friends.



Even at the picnic Kimber Sanders cleans up.

Robby Stokes takes a ride on the carousel.

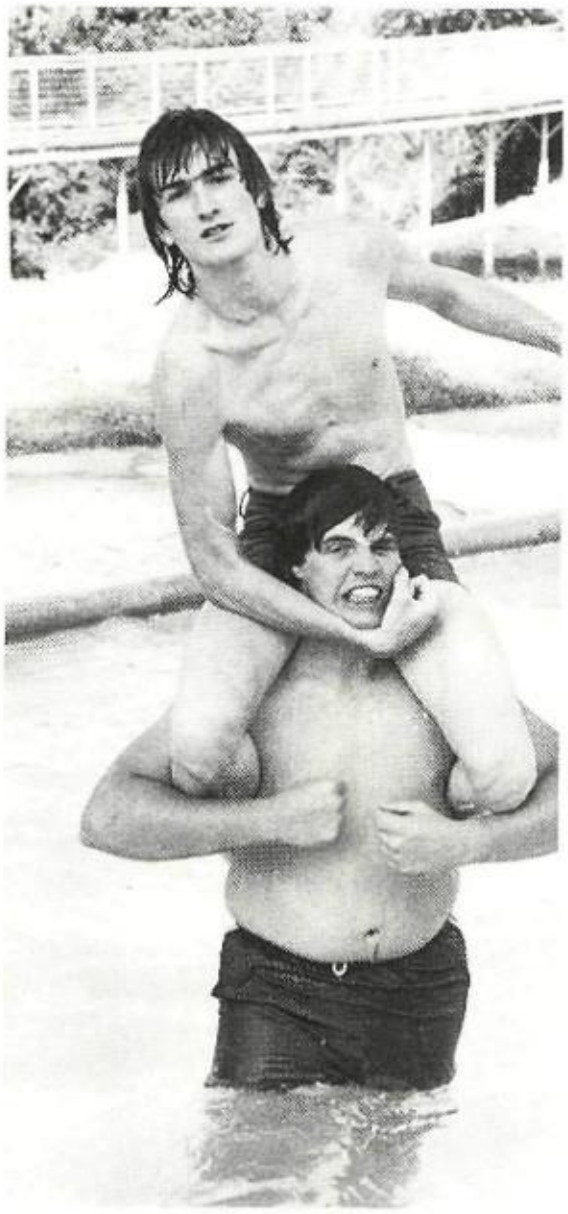
Mark Shindoll, Rusty Ditmars and Shawn Newsome enjoy a game of volleyball.

Diana Smith, Darwin Armstrong, Cassandra Rhodes, Karen Jeffrey, Rodney Hickman, Terry Holland and Theodore Ridge watch the action in the pool.

Craig Golden relives his childhood.

Sherian Espinoza doesn't miss the lunchroom food.



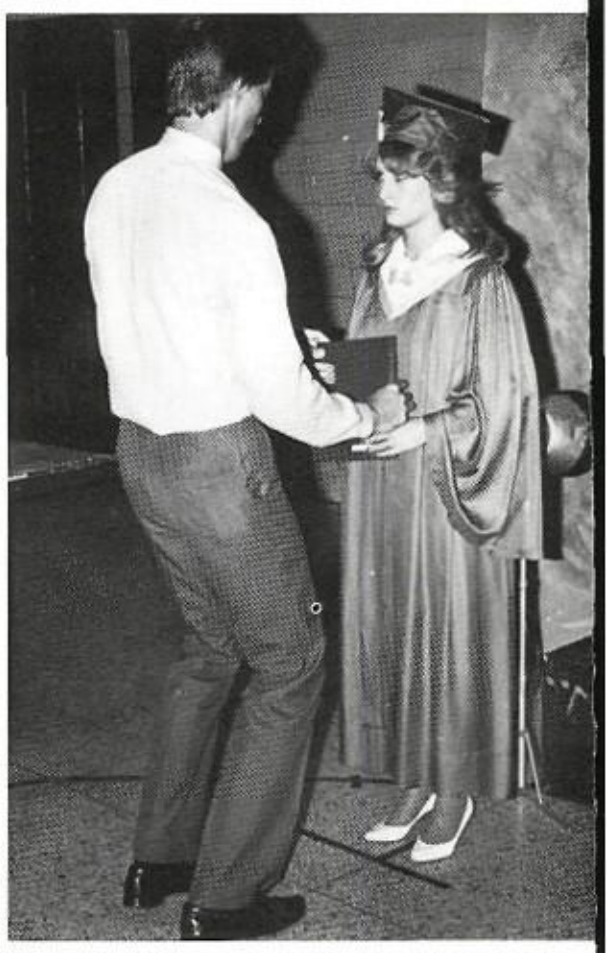
Steve Hyles and David Higginbotham are ready for a chicken fight.

Graduation

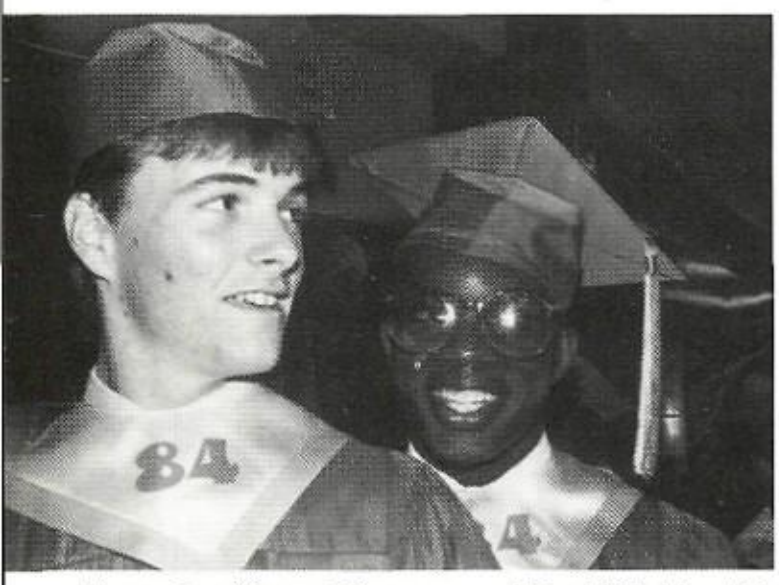
A new beginning

On May 26th at 8:00 p.m., the graduation ceremony was held for the 1984 senior class. The ceremony began with the invocation given by Kimber Sanders. The concert choir performed two songs, "Reach for a Star" and "Hallelujah Day." Mr. Rollings, who was retiring, then gave the welcoming remarks, as well as his farewell speech to the class of 1984.

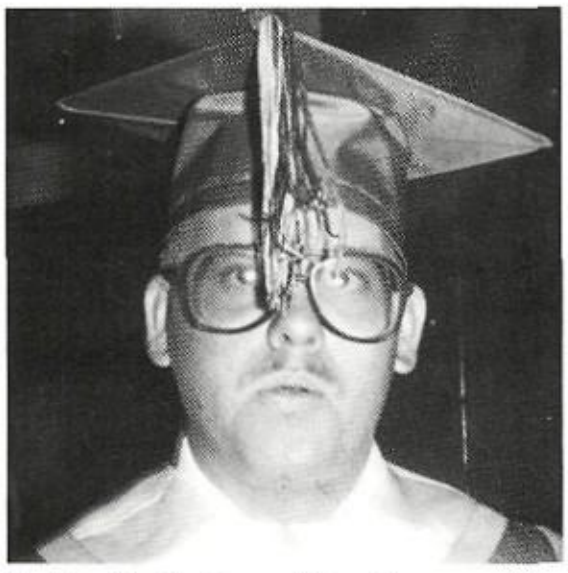
The distinguished graduate award was presented to Mr. Charles Hodges, graduate of the class of 1964, by Ms. Hawkins. Mr. Rollings then introduced DISD school board member, Richard Curry, who presented the seniors with their diplomas, and they in turn presented him with marbles as they shook his hand. The ceremony concluded with the benediction given by Lisa Hoppert. The graduates celebrated the completion of twelve years of school by throwing their hats, beach balls and frisbees.



Sherri Godbey says, "I'm not going to give my diploma up that easily."



For seniors Shawn Newsome and David Nobles, this is it!



Calvin Ruble keeps himself amused by blowing his tassel.

E is for English

Traditional English was back at Samuell this year. The English department provided British, American and world literature. The research paper, vocabulary development, grammar, and literary analysis were emphasized.

This year, 1984, always a popular novel was especially important in the senior English classes. Teachers stressed the TAP and TABS objectives and students improved their test-taking skills at every grade level.

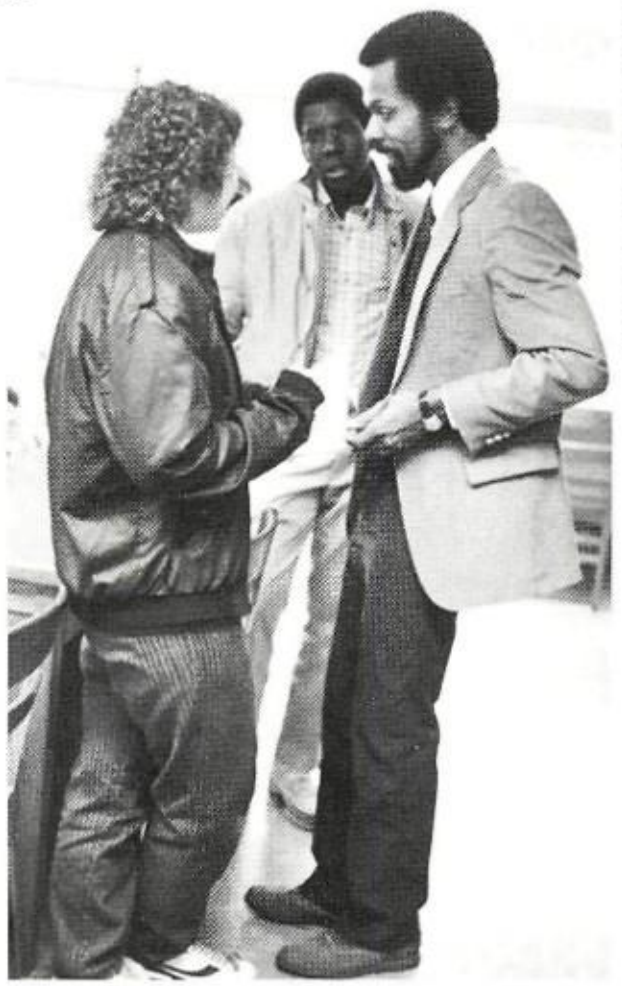
Ms. Moffett, Greg Pierson and Ms. Hughes believe hugging is the best sign.

Computer math is fascinating for Kelly Wright, Christi Current, Denise West, Fred Jurik, Danny Winters, Greg Hamilton, and Alfred James.

Ms. Adams tells Janice Johnson, "This is the closet you'll get to eat in my class."



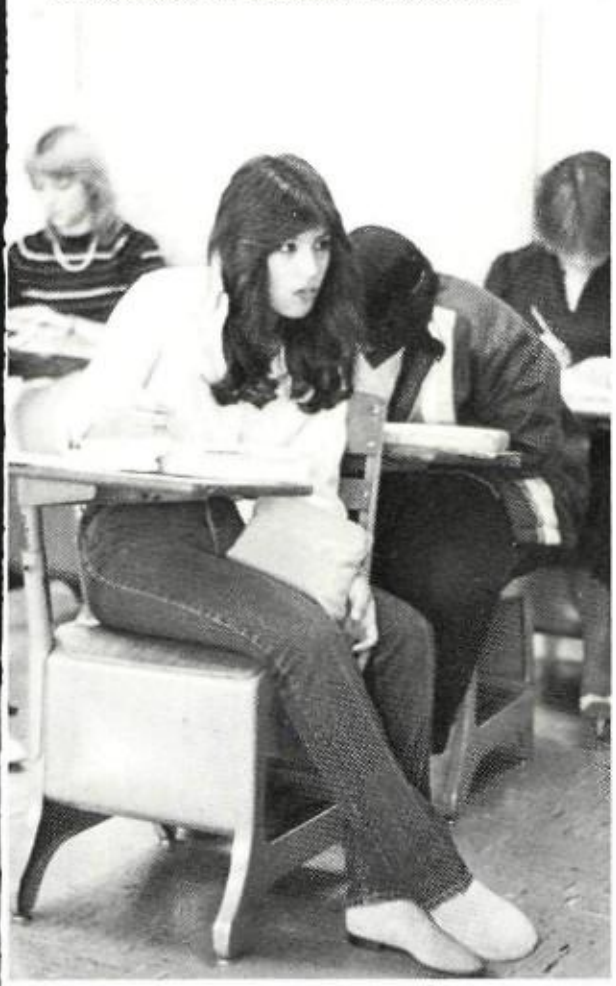
Mr. Battle introduces Patricia Cowan and Patrick Jimison to algebra.

Ms. McCollum and Jill Tucker believe being a Spartan means having friends.

Ms. Hallum helps Levi Randolph decide his courses for the second semester.

Mr. Wartes can't believe that the odds are a hundred to one.

Mr. Shelley puts the Code of Student Conduct to work on John Samford.



Priscilla Ramirez contemplates a problem in algebra.

Mike Page, Wallace Maloney, and Clifford Hooker think drafting draws attention.

H is for history

The Samuell social studies department offered a variety of courses. Students were required to take world geography or world history, American history, and American government. In addition they also had the opportunity to take Texas history, psychology, or sociology.

Students studied current events, war dramas, and historical biographies. Through these classes students learned about the past and came to understand the happenings of the present that could influence the future.

M is for math

A variety of math courses were offered to the students at Samuell. Along with the required two years of mathematics, students also had the opportunity to take geometry, trigonometry, calculus, and computer math. An academic emphasis math course was also offered this year to help students who needed extra help with mathematic skills.

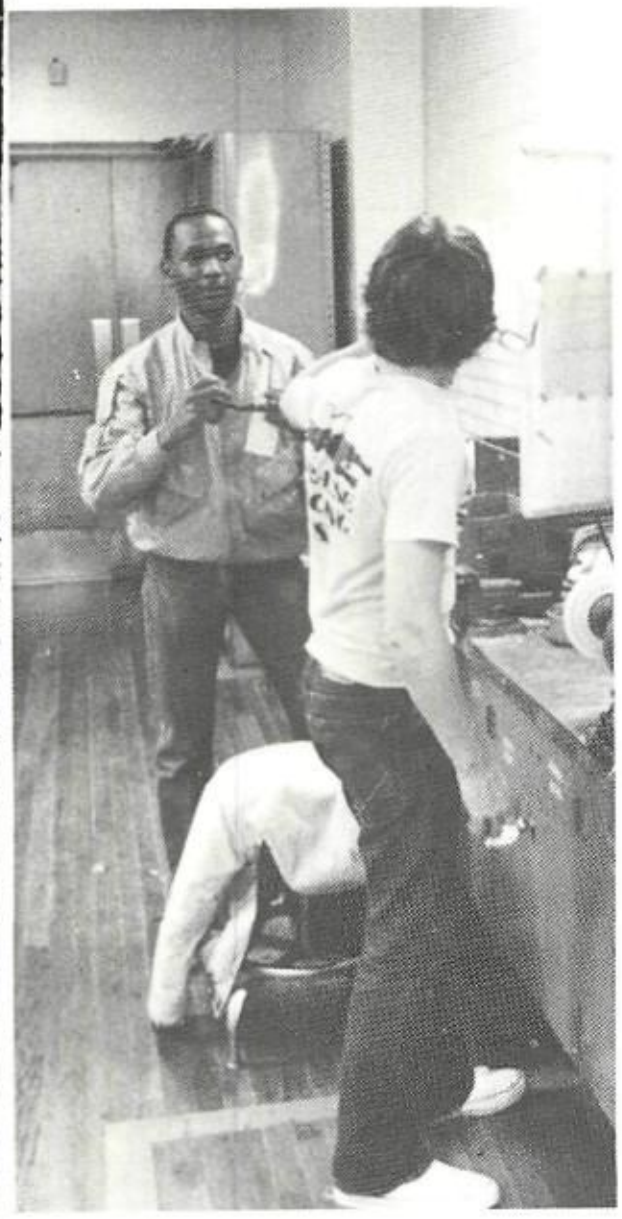
Mr. Shelley finds that a short nap helps in riding the range at the Howdy Dance.



Bill Riley and Brian Jones buff the edges in plastics.

Paula Barham and Patti Hall await their chemistry grade from Mr. Nicholson with smiling faces.

S is for science

Samuell offered many required and elective science courses for students. Through physical science, biology, chemistry, and physics, students had the opportunity to mix chemicals, disect animals, learn about gravity and formulas, and the world of science. These courses gave students an opportunity to experience and learn about the world that surrounds them.

Electives are extra

Many electives were offered at Samuell. There was a course for each student's interest. Students interested in foreign language were enrolled in either Spanish or French. Students interested in the business world took typing, shorthand, business lab, and took part in the cooperative education program.

Students furthered their artistic abilities through such courses as choir, art, drama, band and orchestra. Courses such as home furnishings, child development and home and family living enabled students to learn the basics of a household and family life. Industrial arts offered students training in the use of wood, metal, and plastics. Physical education, health, and ROTC built minds and bodies.

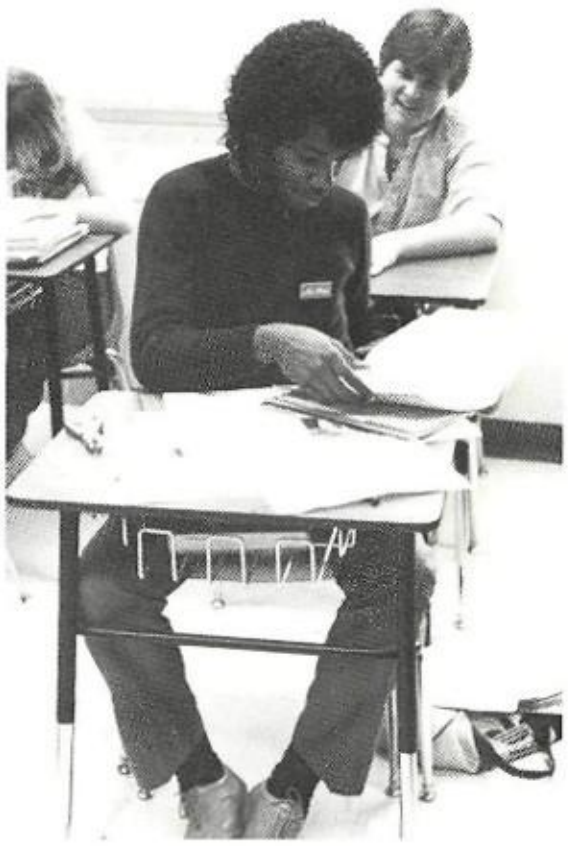
D. D. Hicks is a real sweetheart in the counselor's office.

Ms. Lynd strictly enforces the Code of Conduct.



President, Pino Burns, gets organized for home management.

Mr. Morrow raises money the easy way, for his drama classes.

R is for rules

This year DISD adopted a Code of Student Conduct. Its purpose was to describe behavior that builds a positive environment for learning, to describe specific examples of student's misbehaviors and the penalties which resulted. Each teacher reviewed the booklet with students during class time.

As a result of this code, the teachers' PAC, and principals met on January 31st to establish the five school-wide rules of conduct and consequences. Each teacher posted these rules in their room.

The school district believed that this experience in self-discipline would insure a good learning environment for all students.

NHS
Honor, achievement and integrity

The National Honor Society was a very prestigious organization at Samuell. To be inducted into the National Honor Society a student was rated on the qualities of character, service, leadership, and scholarship. Grade point averages and teacher recommendations were also major considerations.

The NHS was active. During the fall, the NHS held a banquet at Chuck E. Cheese's. They also made sack lunches for teachers on open house night. Their major project was publishing the student directory for the 1984 school year. On April 18th the organization held their end of school banquet at Spaghetti Warehouse.

The induction ceremony took place on March 22nd at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. The new members for this year consisted of nine seniors, nine juniors and seven sophomores. There were already fourteen seniors and twelve juniors, which made a new total of fifty-one members. The sponsors of the National Honor Society were Ms. Serpas, Ms. Bell, Ms. Reed and Mr. Battle. Senior members not pictured were Amy Mankin and two year member, Lisa Antonicelli. Three year members are designated by , two year members by , and one year members by *.

Students lead Spartans

The student council was a very active organization at Samuell. Before school started some of the members attended student council camp at San Marcos, and they planned freshman orientation. After school started, they sponsored the Howdy Dance; they sold spirit chains; and they sponsored a legs contest. They also were in charge of the Homecoming Dance and the Thanksgiving Dance. During the holidays they held a holiday dance and encouraged clubs to decorate the halls. Each month they prepared something special for the teachers for teacher appreciation.

During February they sponsored the Valentine Dance and sold Val-a-grams in the lunchroom. They also sponsored a blood drive. The putt putt contest took place during March.

Students advise principal

The Principals Advisory Committee, a group of students elected by the student body, met with the principal, Mr. Rollings, to discuss the students' point of view. This group gave students an opportunity to express their opinions. Mr. Rollings asked for any suggestions that could help better student attitudes. During the week before exams, the members met with the principal and some teachers to discuss the exam schedule.

Allied Youth educates

Allied Youth was a service organization dealing with drug and alcohol abuse. Training for Allied Youth was held on October 20th at the Human Service Magnet.

Members took two, two day trips to Hood on November 15th and 16th and on March 8th and 9th to educate middle school students on the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse. During the holidays the members of the group sold Christmas ornaments as their annual fund raiser. The spring conference was held on March 29th, 30th and 31st at Lake Bridgeport. A group of students also attended a Dallas Challenge at S.M.U. Allied Youth was sponsored by Ms. Rhoads.

Service with a smile

Keywanettes, organized last year, was a service organization that participated in community and school projects.

During the holiday season they conducted a necessity item drive for the elderly people who lived in the Georgetown Apartments.

The president of the organization was Wendy Reed, the vice-president and treasurer was Kim Fredrick, the secretary was Jill Tucker, chairpersons were Cherri Doughty, Molly Yandell, and Denise Tribe and the sponsor was Ms. Arthur.

La langue de Français est d'affaire de coeur

The 1983-1984 French club consisted of sixty-seven members. These members participated in various activities including a get acquainted banquet at the Magic Pan on September 27th, a Salvation Army canned good drive, a Easter stuffed animal drive, and many in-school cultural activities.

In keeping as closely as possible to the French culture, a Mardi Gras observance celebration was held on March 6th. The Mardi Gras included a float competition between all French classes. The annual Spring banquet was held in April. Club members also purchased new club T-Shirts.

The president of the club was Tonya Ballard; the first vice-president was Bridget Wilson, and the second vice-president was Kim Coburn. The secretary was Phyllis Brown, and the assistant secretary was Billie Johnson; the treasurer was Dinah Montalvo with assistants Tammy Suiter and Misti Wilkes. Theresa Denton was the publicity chairperson with assistants Toi Haynes, Angie Brown and Leslie McFarland. South of the border

The Spanish Club had a quiet year, despite the fact that the organization consisted of approximately eighty members. The only event this year was the trip to Mexico. Ms. Rhoads and seven other members visited Puerta Vallarta where they stayed on the beach and went snorkling. They also visited Guadalajara where they went to the Thachepaque, a market. The group visited Mexico City where they went to the National Museum of Anthropology, a disco, a cathedral, and to the pyramids. Ms. Rhoads was the sponsor of the club.

Being a cheerleader, on the banner team or Spartan Image is not all fun and games. The school year for the varsity cheerleaders began before the start of the school with cheerleader camp at S.M.U. August 8th through the 12th. Learning new chants and cheers was a part of the camp curriculum. Out of a 1500 squad competition, they brought home a spirit stick, two excellent ribbons and one good ribbon. For the first time this year, the Spartan Image attended camp which provided an opportunity for the mascots to show their school spirit. Roy Phillips found it a great experience and thought all future Spartan Images should attend camp.

Each week during football season the cheerleaders and banner team made posters for pep assemblies, tags for the football players and a Spartan banner for football game. The first period class also made tags for the basketball and baseball players and banners for various basketball and baseball games. They showed enthusiasm and cheered at all varsity football games, varsity girl's and boy's basketball games, and various other activities throughout the year. The cheerleaders, banner team, and Spartan Image were under the sponsorship and leadership of Ms. Adams.

Spirit in sign

This year's deaf cheerleader squad consisted of four members. Their purpose was to promote spirit among deaf students by interpreting and performing the cheers. The cheerleaders performed at all varsity football games and during the pep assemblies.

They sponsored two dances, the Christmas Dance on December 2nd and the Spring Dance on March 9th. They also held a fund raiser in April. Their sponsor, Ms. Hughes, said, "This was the best group of cheerleaders yet."

Catch that Spartan spirit

The J.V. Cheerleaders were chosen by a panel of outside judges. They were judged on ability, teacher recommendations and grades. There were twelve girls who met these requirements for this year. These girls were an asset to the Spartan spirit of 1984. They cheered at all freshman and junior varsity football and basketball games. They also made tags each week for the teams.

This group attended the S.M.U. Cheerleader camp August 8th through August 12th. They received two spirit sticks, a super star squad ribbon, three superior ratings and three excellent ratings. The J.V. cheerleaders practiced long and hard hours preparing for the J.V. Assembly which was held on October 5th. They attended a competition on April 15th which was held at W. H. Adamson High School. The cheerleaders were sponsored by Ms. Hall and Ms. Dunbar.

Starlets kick it up

Being a member of the drill team took a great deal of discipline and dedication. The drill practiced long hours, coming early in the morning to learn and perfect routines which they performed at football games, basketball games, and pep assemblies.

This group attended the American Drill Team School at S.M.U. July 5th through the 8th. They won fifty-one individual ribbons and a first division trophy in dance, the Gussie Nell Davis Award, and the choreographers award. Captain, Kelley Maurer, won two individual trophies for outstanding dance and marching. June 6th through 10th the officers attended Superstar camp at S.M.U. These girls won thirty individual ribbons. Kelley Maurer was chosen as a member of the All American Drill Team, and Sheryl Scott was chosen as a member of Who's Who in American Drill Teams. During the Thanksgiving holidays both girls performed at a Maverick basketball game.

The Starlets presented Starlets on Broadway on January 27th. They also competed in a Miss Texas Drill Team competition on February 11th, where they were awarded a trophy for their military routine to "Eye of the Tiger."

Over spring break, March 24th through 29th, the Starlets went to a competition in Purgatory, Colorado. They enjoyed the competition as well as the beautiful snow and the chance to ski.

The Starlets were under the leadership and guidance of Ms. Lynd.

Mr. Crook and the concert choir put a lot of time and effort into making their performances perfect. They practiced third and fourth period, as well as after school.

During the fall semester, the choir members prepared for Razz-Ma-Tazz, all region choir auditions, and the Holiday Festival.

In the spring the choir practiced many hours for solo and ensemble contest and the annual DISD and UIL Choir contest. On February 21st, Samuell had the honor of hosting the DISD Choir contest. The choir sang some very difficult numbers including "Lacrymosa," a selection from Mozarts, and "Requiem" and "Sing Unto God" by Paul Feter.

The highlight of the year occurred in April with the presentation of the musical, Once Upon A Mattress. During the year the choir performed for various churches. The year ended with performances at the Spring Festival, baccalaureate and commencement.

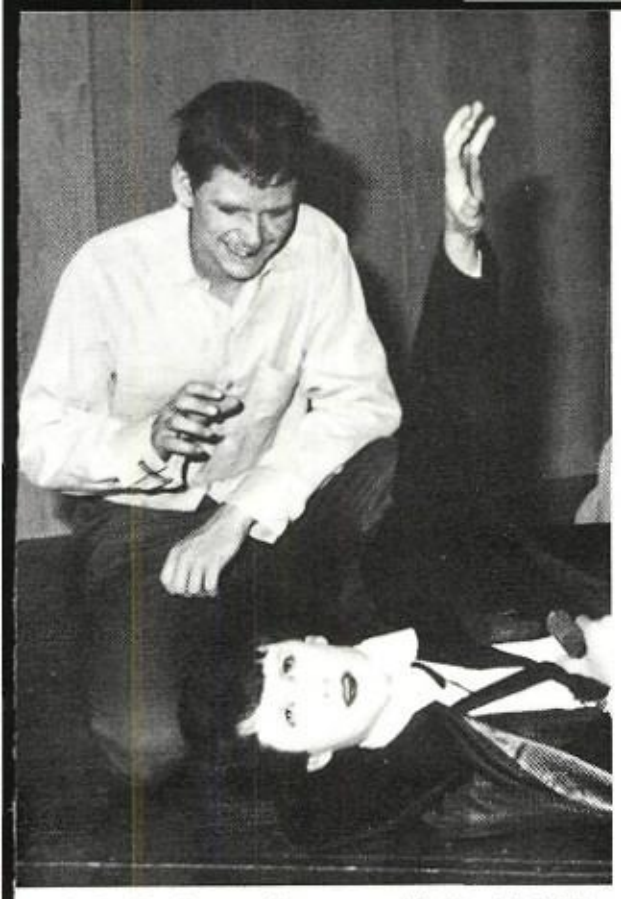
Thespians have acting in their blood



J. R. Parham rehearses with David Miller for Dracula.

Thespians was an international society dedicated to the advancement of theater in the high school. There were fifty three members in the organization made up of mostly juniors and seniors. This group practiced long hours after school, at night and during class time to perfect the two major plays they presented this year.

Their first play was Dracula which was presented on November 17th and 18th. Bus Stop was their second major production which was presented on April 12th, 13th, and 14th.

Bus Stop was also the play presented at the UIL one act play contest. The Thespians director was Mr. Morrow.

FHA — All 4 one

Future Homemakers of American was a nationwide group that taught students the basics of maintaining a home. The first, second, third and fourth chapters were all involved in various activities throughout the year. Each chapter observed vocational education week February 13th through February 17th. Each chapter had a very active year.

The first chapter of FHA was sponsored by Ms. Fanner. This group participated in activities such as the installation ceremony, three field trips, and they attended the city-wide meeting. They also held a mock-wedding and wore ribbons to indicate FHA week.

The second chapter of FHA was sponsored by Ms. Yater. The members of this chapter held fund raisers for Cystic Fibrosis where they sold pickles and Spartan caps. They held a Christmas party for the four year olds from Little Folks Child Care Center. They attended the March of Dimes Peer Education Conference and the State FHA Convention in San Antonio.

Ms. Tucker was the sponsor of the third chapter of FHA. The members were involved in various fund raisers throughout the year. During the week of vocational education week, they informed students of the history of FHA over the public address system. They had sessions with guest speakers on various careers.

The fourth chapter of FHA was sponsored by Ms. Armstrong. The students held workshops for the special education classes and sponsored a can good collection. They sold cookbooks as their fund raiser and held a poster contest. They also participated in leadership training sessions and had various guest speakers.

HERO saves the day

The students in the Home Economics Cooperative Education class attended school half a day and worked the other half in a variety of fields. Students were employed as child care aides, clothing assistants, fashion coordinators, floral designers, food service employees, companions for the elderly, consumer aides, home furnishing aides and housekeeping assistants.

All HECE students participate in the HERO club. They performed special projects for the students' employers. The employers were honored at the end of the year. The sponsor of HECE was Ms. Brown.

VICA

Working up a storm

The Industrial Cooperative Training program trained students for jobs in industrial corperations or skilled trades. To be eligible for this program a student had to be a junior or senior, sixteen years old or older and must have completed an application. There were twenty-two students enrolled in the industrial education program.

These students had opportunities to develop their leadership through participation in the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. Activities included a Christmas party for the special education classes at Titche Elementary School. Conserve Dallas was a program that VICA students were involved in. This program gave them an opportunity to help the community. They reparied and weatherized homes for the elderly and invalids. Mr. McRae sponsored VICA.

OEA I works 12:00 to 4:00

Vocational Office Education was a joint effort between the DISD and the local businesses to provide on-the-job-training opportunities for junior and senior students. For at least four hours a day, the student worked in a paid regular job at a business establishment under the supervision of an experienced office employee. The junior or senior student also attended school part time to complete graduation requirements and to take a related office education class.

Careers existed for persons who liked to deal with people, as well as for those who would rather work by themselves in a file room or word processing center. There were careers for individuals who were mathematically inclined, enjoyed talking on the telephone or were interested in using machines.

W. W. Samuell OEA I students participated in area contests sponsored by the Texas Education Agency and were involved in community service activities. The annual Employer-Employee luncheon was held in the spring. At that time, students and employers received certificates from the DISD. Field trips to companies to view various aspects of the working world were taken and guest speakers presented seminars on wardrobe planning and human relations. Ms. Aicklen was the sponsor.

OEA II training for life

The Office Education Association was a national organization that promoted leadership and citizenship. OEA helped students to develop leadership through group organization and gave students responsibilities that would encourage growth in the world of work. It also provided social and educational values.

OEA students participated in a wide range of activities including the Area Leadership Conference. The members adopted a senior citizen for their yearly project. The highlights of the activities centered around Christmas, birthdays, holidays and Easter. Students purchased gift items for the senior citizens and delivered the items. They also sent flowers at Easter.

Another special activity for the year was presenting stuffed animals to patients at the Scottish Rite Hospital. The sponsor of OEA II was Ms. Daniels.

VOCT provides experience.

Coordinated Vocational Academic Education was a vocational program to prepare students for the world of work. In CVAE students trained for semi-skilled jobs that offered immediate employment and opportunities for skill development leading to advancement. Assistant groundskeeper,carpenter's assistant, child care aide, file clerk, sales assistant and stock assistant were some of the career opportunities available to the CVAE students.

CVAE included a youth leadership organization called Vocational Opportunities Clubs of Texas. Students sponsored school and community projects that improved the quality of life for all the participants. Ms. Sikes was the sponsor of VOCT.

ROTC presents arms

The ROTC worked very hard this year to achieve its high standards of leadership development goals. In class students were taught everything from self-discipline to the newest techniques of first aid.

Extra-curricular activities included the rifle team and the boy's and girl's drill teams. The ROTC participated in two parades, the Governor's Honor Guard, and they ushered at football games among other things. Inspection was held by the DAI on February 19th and by the AFI on March 19th. ROTC had a very successful year.

The Silent News talks

The Silent News staff consisted of four seniors, eight juniors and two sophomores. The paper was printed every two months and distributed throughout the community and in other nearby areas that shared the program's ideas.

Its purpose was to inform the school district, the deaf population, the students and interested individuals on what had happened within the Dallas Regional Day School for the Deaf.

The editor of the paper was Keith Kissentaner and the sponsor was Mr. Valencia.

Sparks fly from TORCH staff

Dedication, intelligence, cooperation, and a sense of humor were all requirements for being a member of the 1984 TORCH staff. Photographers were responsible for attending all activities, taking, developing and printing pictures while other staffers identified pictures, layed out pages, thought up captions, typed, wrote copy and proofread.

Some students and the advisor worked on staff development days, after school, and some nights until ten o'clock. To complete the book, members of the staff worked days and nights through June 13th putting in a total of four hundred and eighty-nine hours.

In August during the journalism workshop at SMU, the TORCH staff continued the winning tradition by receiving the best overall award for theme, layout and cover design. This was the most prestigious award given. Also, photographer, Rob Stokes received second place in advanced photography.

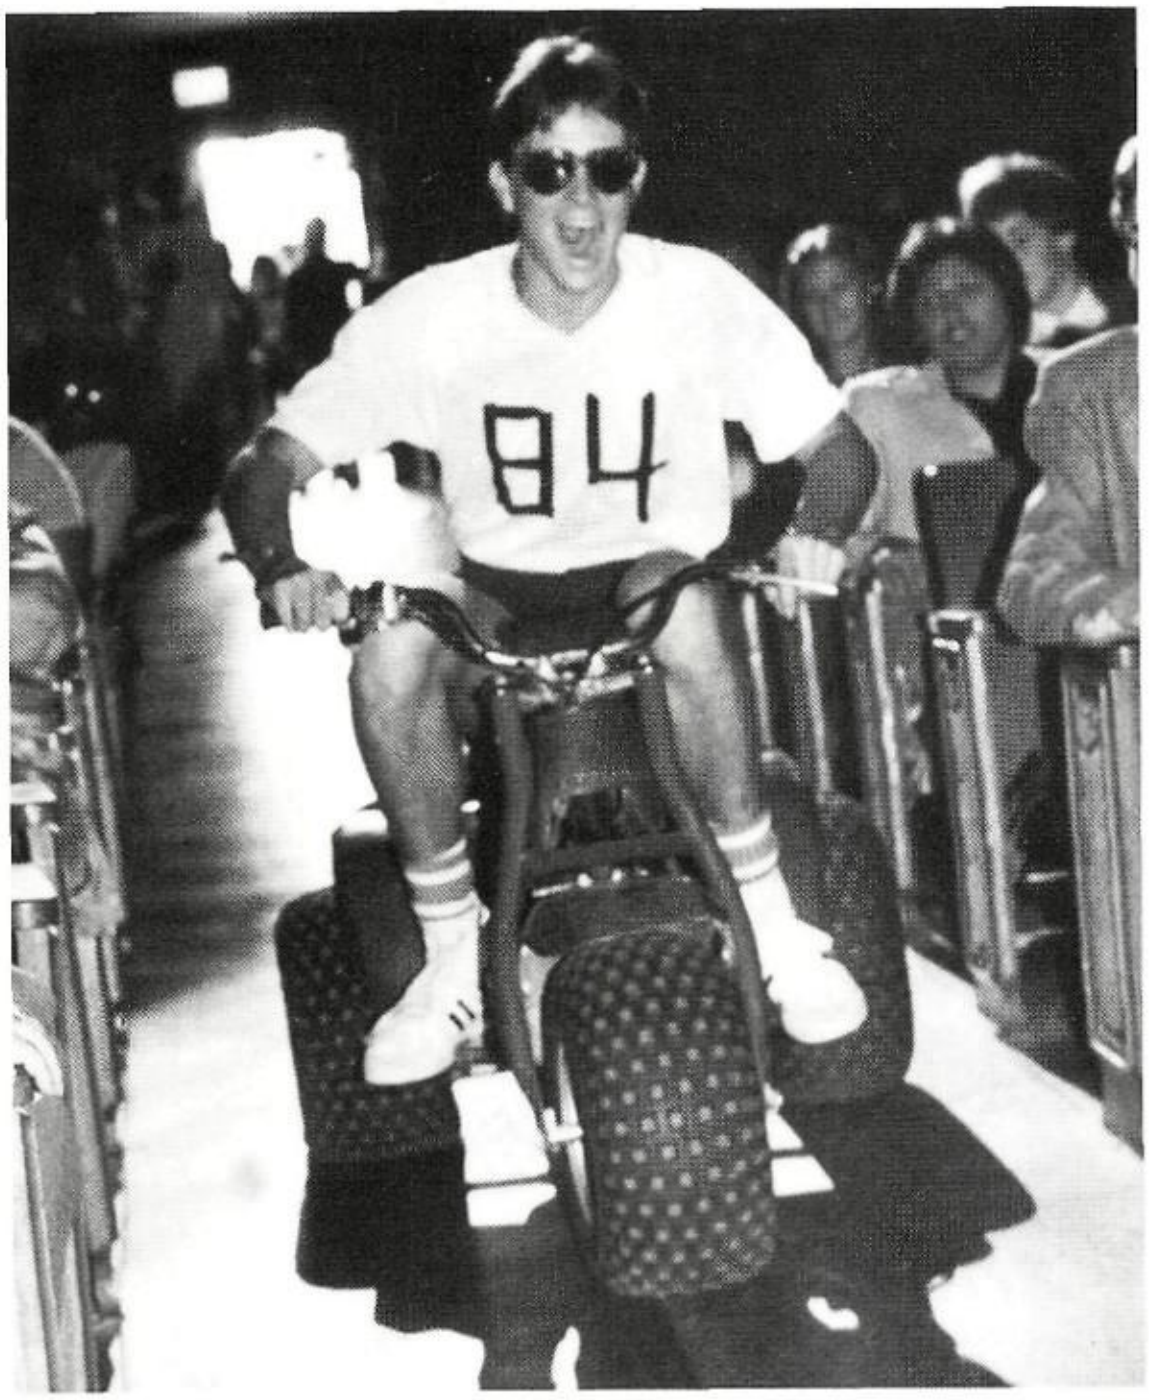
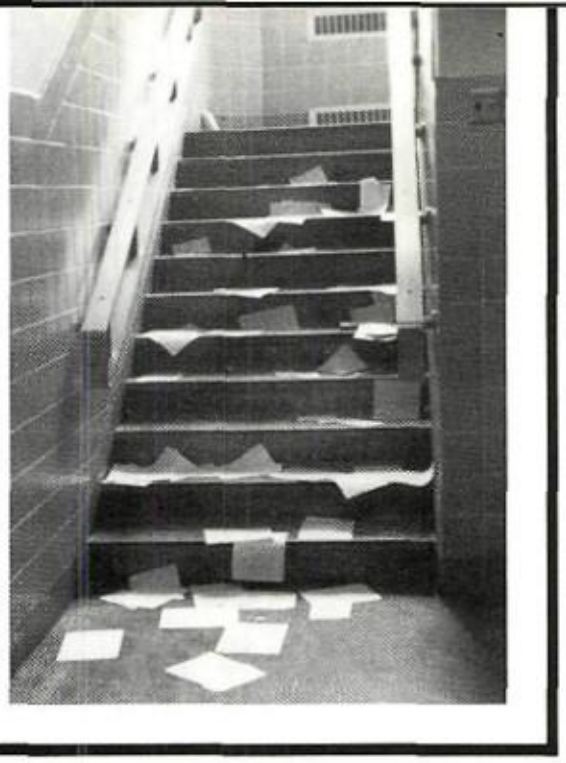
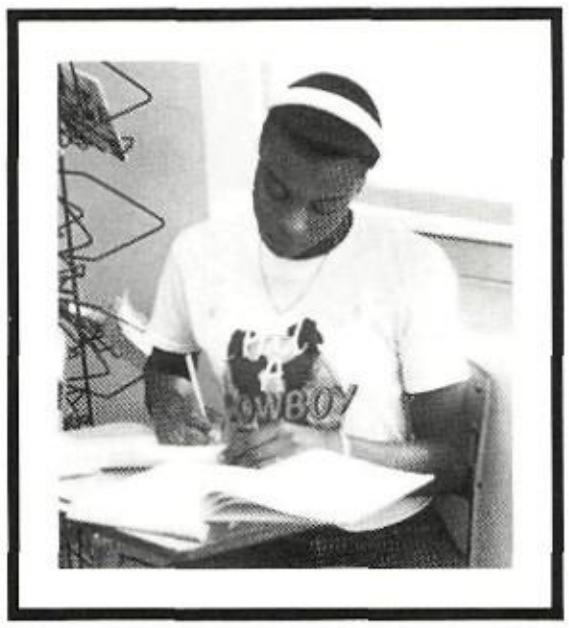
Being a Spartan is . . .







never ending.

Being a Spartan . . .

in 1984 meant being a part of many things. It meant being a winner on the bi-district varsity football team, the varsity basketball team and the girls soccer team. It was being a part of the winning UIL one act play Bus Stop, and it was being a part of Mr. Crook's last musical, Once Upon A Mattress. Being a Spartan also meant staying up half the night studying for a test, and trying to get your research paper in on time. It also meant being a part of the TORCH staff and working many long and hard hours. There were times when being a Spartan meant just sharing a sandwich with a friend or chatting in the hall between classes.

For underclassmen being a Spartan meant taking the dreaded final exams, and for the seniors, it meant being exempt for the first time. Being a part of all the senior activities such as the prom, the senior luncheon, and the senior picnic was also part of being a Spartan. In 1984 being a Spartan just simply meant taking pride in the school, your friends and most importantly in yourself.

A multitude of organizations and activities provided cultural, academic and entertaining opportunities for all. Students were able to join in the fun of organizations. They attended Woods and Waters trips, the French Club banquets, and the FHA wedding. Students were also able to attend and participate in activities such as the Hawaiian dance in the courtyard, the JESTERS! show, and the senior assembly.

Students' academic achievement was revealed in improved test scores. On both the TAP and TABS, students showed gains. Also students and faculty attendance improved as a result of the stiffer attendance policy and merit pay. Work and play went hand in hand. Spartans grew and changed making each day unique but equally fulfilling.

As the halls and classrooms emptied on the last day of school, each student anticipated the events of summer and of the coming years. Seniors looked forward to college and careers; juniors looked toward their senior year, and sophomores and freshmen looked toward two or three more years on the Samuell scene. Each individual reflected upon the sad endings, as well as the new beginnings, remembering the new friends that each had made and the good times that they had shared. Most of all they remembered 1984 as being the year when they were all Spartans.

Trisha Thomas enjoys working with flowers at Paul's Florist.

Pleasant Grove was a unique and closely knit community. The Spartans supported the community and in return the community supported the Spartans. Community life was important to the Spartans, for they spent most of their free time eating, shopping and socializing in the Grove.

Businesses such as Jackson's Sporting Goods, Geddies of Dallas, Natalie School of Dance, Texas Paint and Wallpaper Company, Dot's Flower Pot, Tee Shirt Corner, Paul's Florist, Pete's Jewelers, Horn Williams Ford, Grissoms One Hour Martinizing, Dudley M. Hughes and Piedmont Pharmacy supported the Spartans during the 1983-1984 school year.

Other individuals backed the Spartans and were an integral part of Samuell. This spirit of togetherness and unity made Pleasant Grove a truly pleasant place to live.

DeLynn Loy, Kirk Buchanan, Kristi Stout, Marisa Martinez, DeAnn Woodruff and Craig Golden check out the new fashions at the Tee Shirt Corner.

it's an UPPER!

Shawn,

You are such a delight to us, and we are thankful for your grateful spirit and loving attitudes. As you embark on a new adventure in life, let God's principles continue to be the center of all you do, and we know that your desires will become realities. We love you!

Mom, Dad, Shaynor, Shaira, and Shanda

Kelley,
Thank you for the joy and happiness you have given us. No one could be more proud than we are, not only in what you have accomplished but also in what you are. Always keep your standards high, your goals and dreams and trust in God. With His help your future shall be all you're hoping for.

All Our Love, Mom and Dad

P.S. Congrats. on Val. and thanks for all the wonderful memories!

"Here my goes."
Camille, Our love and prayers go with you. Mom and Dad

To A Special Young Woman Who Happens To Be My Niece,
May your goals, dreams and ambitions bring you the happiness and success you deserve.

Love, Aunt Leo

To our son Bo, who we raised from a tot to teen, who now wears those tight Blue Jeans. You learned right from wrong, the things to make you strong — from soccer to gym to driving your Trans Am. Now it's off to college just look what a man. We love you son with all our heart and wish you the best and know you will pass through life with the utmost success.

Love, Mom and Dad

Rhonda,
For 18 years you have brought us happiness. Your faith, beauty, and high standards make us proud to call you "our daughter."

We love you. Mom and Dad Lindsey

To My Daughter, Kim Crawford,
This is the time to say I'm proud of you because of all you have achieved and all you plan to do. May God bless your pathway and help you discover your full potential. My best and finest wish for any mother-to-be is that her child will give her as much joy and pride as you've given me. With loving thoughts, precious memories, and a joyous anticipation of your future.

Love you, Mother

To Our Granddaughter, Kim Crawford,
As you start your new life, may you greet each day with a dream in your heart and faith in your ability to achieve it.

We are proud of you and love you,
Granny and Woody

Karen Wright,
We have really been proud of you in everything you've done in the past years. We especially enjoyed you being in Starlets. Good luck and stay happy.

Love from your Entire Family

Thea,
Thanks for the memories. We are very proud of you. We love you and appreciate the success and joy you have added to our life. May God lead you in all your decisions and guide your path.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Beth Hairgrove,
You have brought us so much happiness; we feel so fortunate to have such a special daughter. We love you and are so very proud of you and your achievements. Always put the Lord first in your life and success will be yours!

Love, Mom and Dad

Deda,
You are one of the greatest joys of our lives. We are very proud of you. Keep your standards high. Thanks for the memories. All our love.

Mom, Dad, and Bubba

Bill,
Senior "84"! It seems like only yesterday you started your first day at school, and now it's the last. Thank you for all that you have shared and given to us. You have made us very proud. Son, it's been a wonderful 18 years. Congratulations!

Love, Nannie and Mom

Lynn,
You've come a long way from a snaggled toothed tomboy in the first grade to the mature young lady that you are today. You have made us proud every step of the way. We love you and wish for you every success and happiness.

Love,
Mama, Daddy, Kelly and Kerry

To Our Special Daughter, Kim Crawford,
Sharing your happiness, sharing your pride during the days that were so special for you — sharing your dreams and all of your hopes for success in whatever you do . . . has been a unique and beautiful experience. We're proud of you.

Love, Dad, Carol, Christi and Robin

Rod,
Thank you for letting us share in all that you have done. We wish for you the very best in all that you do. Always remember we love you very much.

Mom, Dad, Dale, and Donald

Susan,
You are a very sweet and beautiful girl whose love for God shows in your daily life. We are very proud of your accomplishments.

We love you, Mom and Dad

My Dear Kim,
Always look through and beyond the rainbows! For every one holds a delicious challenge — and how you handle those challenges dictate life's successes! You, and sometimes only you, can make things happen! You're a very special young lady and a beautiful one. May each dream become a reality. Best wishes for North Texas!

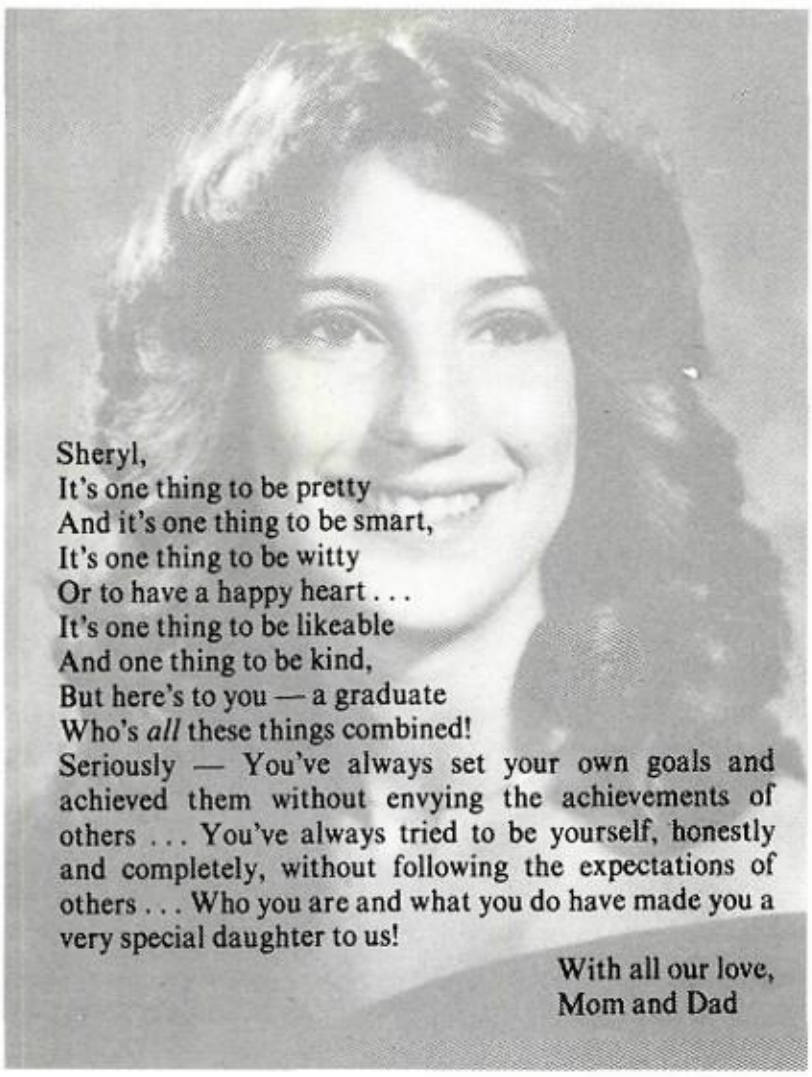
Love, Mimi

Congratulations Kimber, our ladybug. You have given us sunshine with your smile, joy with your personality, and pride in your many accomplishments. You never cease to amaze us with your wisdom and understanding. You are so special! May you enjoy the future stages of life and be blessed with as much happiness as you have given others. Remember "What you are is God's gift to you; What you make of yourself is your gift to God."

We love you dearly, Mom and Dad

Marietta,
As you start your new life may you greet each day with a dream in your heart and faith in your ability to achieve it.

"Just Because"
We love you,
Mom, Dad, Todd



Sheryl,
It's one thing to be pretty
And it's one thing to be smart,
It's one thing to be witty
Or to have a happy heart . . .
It's one thing to be likeable
And one thing to be kind,
But here's to you — a graduate
Who's all these things combined!
Seriously — You've always set your own goals and achieved them without envying the achievements of others . . . You've always tried to be yourself, honestly and completely, without following the expectations of others . . . Who you are and what you do have made you a very special daughter to us!
With all our love,
Mom and Dad

To the 1984 TORCH Staff,
Renee Brown, Melissa Carol, David Current, Craig Golden, Bo Harmon, Steve Hyles, Bill Lindley, Rhonda Lindsey, Marisa Martinez, Kelley Maurer, Curtis Miller, Kim Mitchell, Tina Nuckols, Darita Pool, Danny Powell, Susan Presley, Shelly Reed, Kimber Sanders, Sheryl Scott, Rob Stokes, Kristi Stout, Marietta Watson, DeAnn Woodruff.
It has really been some year — long hours, laughter and a few tears. You have been an outstanding group, and I have really enjoyed working with you. There will never be another group quite like this one — I really mean that. Remember story time, the late hours and getting the giggles. I do! A very special thanks to the editor, Sheryl Scott, Craig Golden, Bill Lindley, Tina Nuckols, Susan Presley, Shelly Reed, Kimber Sanders, Rob Stokes, Kristi Stout and Marietta Watson who put in more than their twenty hours. What would I have done without you.
